Council to Act on Fluoridation

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON The aldermen may not have decided anything at Wednesday night's Common Council meeting on fluoridation but at least they now know that it's their responsibility.

After a lengthy, sometimes stormy meeting at City Hall last night, Corporation Counsel Aaron E. Klein spoke in caucus to the 11 aldermen who attended and told them that, in his opinion, the Common Council and not the Water Board was the body that would have to approve or disapprove fluoridating the city's water supply. The two aldermen who did not attend were Michael S. Perry (D-Seventh Ward) and Emilio A. Primo (D-Eighth Ward).

The meeting was called and chaired by Alderman Donald E. Quick (D-Sixth Ward) chairman of the Council's Laws and Rules Committee which has been studying a proposal by Dr. William J. Taylor, county health commissioner, to fluoridate the city's water supply for the past three months. It is considered doubtful that Quick's committee will bring the fluoridation issue to a floor vote at next Tuesday's Common Council meeting. It is expected to take at least another month's study before the committee makes a recommendation.

There were occasional heated exchanges between proponents and opponents of fluoridation at last night's meeting attended by about 65 persons but for the most part, Quick ran an orderly meeting. He allowed everyone who wanted to speak, on either side, five minutes to present their views. The proponents spoke first during that stage of the meeting, then, Quick asked each side to choose four spokesmen for rebuttal. The opponents spoke first during the rebuttals.

The first speaker in favor was Ellsworth Johnson, a Dr. William J. Taylor, county former member of the Kingston Water Board, whose theme on the safety and effectiveness of fluoridation was to be echoed by most of the other speakers in its favor.

The Ulster County Medical Society, which has endorsed fluoridation, also spoke briefly in favor and later in rebuttal as did Dr. Sachs.

The opponents gave loud support to most of the speakers against fluoridation, applauding and cheering. A number of points were raised but the one that drew the most reaction was the allegation that putting fluoride into the city's water constituted a denial of free choice and was not only unfair but unconstitutional.

There was a discussion about the cost and effectiveness of fluoride tablets. The point was made that fluoride tablets cost about $10 a year per person while fluoridating the water would cost about one-tenth that.

Few of the opponents argued with the fact that fluoridation can prevent tooth decay. They did argue that there had been two recent cases, the city hall little evidence that the chemical did not cause other disorders in Arterial.

17 Killed in Montreal Nursing Blaze

(Combined Wire Services)

Four tragic incidents throughout the world today claimed the lives of at least 60 persons, including 17 of 34 elderly residents of an old people's home in suburban Pointe Aux Trembles of Montreal.

The other tragedies occurred near Seoul, Korea, where 29 persons drowned when a small ferry boat capsized in the Soyang River near Chunchon, some 45 miles northeast of the Korean capital.

Two United States sailors lost their lives in an explosion in the boiler room of the guided missile destroyer USS Goldsborough as the vessel proceeded through the Taiwan Straits. None of the victims was identified pending notification of relatives.

And in another sea tragedy, 12 men perished and more than 50 were hospitalized for severe gas poisoning after a lethal carbon dioxide leak in the sprinkler fire extinguishing system aboard a ship at Kristiansand, Norway.

The suburban Montreal fire attributed to a small furnace explosion in the basement of the recently-constructed Foyer Bernadette, broke out about 4:30 a. m. It took Pointe Aux Trembles firemen about an hour and a half to extinguish it.

Damage to the home, which consists of two duplex apartment buildings built side-to-side, was slight, other than in the basement itself.

Those who died were bedridden and unable to save themselves. One attempted to escape in a wheel chair. Another was rushed to a hospital but succumbed to the same asphyxiation which claimed the lives of 15 who died in their beds.

Owner Lucien Paradis, who lives in a separate building behind the home, made an effort to fight the blaze with a fire extinguisher at the outset, but failed. He sustained a number of burns in a futile attempt to reach the upper story to rescue residents.

Paradis said only one nurse was on duty in the home itself when the fire broke out.

"This is normal," he said. "She has the means of getting in touch with us by pushing a button."

Paradis said the home was inspected two weeks ago and that everything was found to be in order. He said he himself had wanted to make some improvements but ran into "red tape" in dealing with government officials.

While equipped with standard fire escapes and described by neighbors as in "top shape" the home did not offer facilities for wheeling out bed-ridden patients in their beds in an emergency.

The building did sustain the fire wall. Damage was confined to the basement where walls around the furnace were charred or blackened. A few windows were broken, apparently by firemen.

There was no damage on the floors which accommodated the 34 elderly residents.

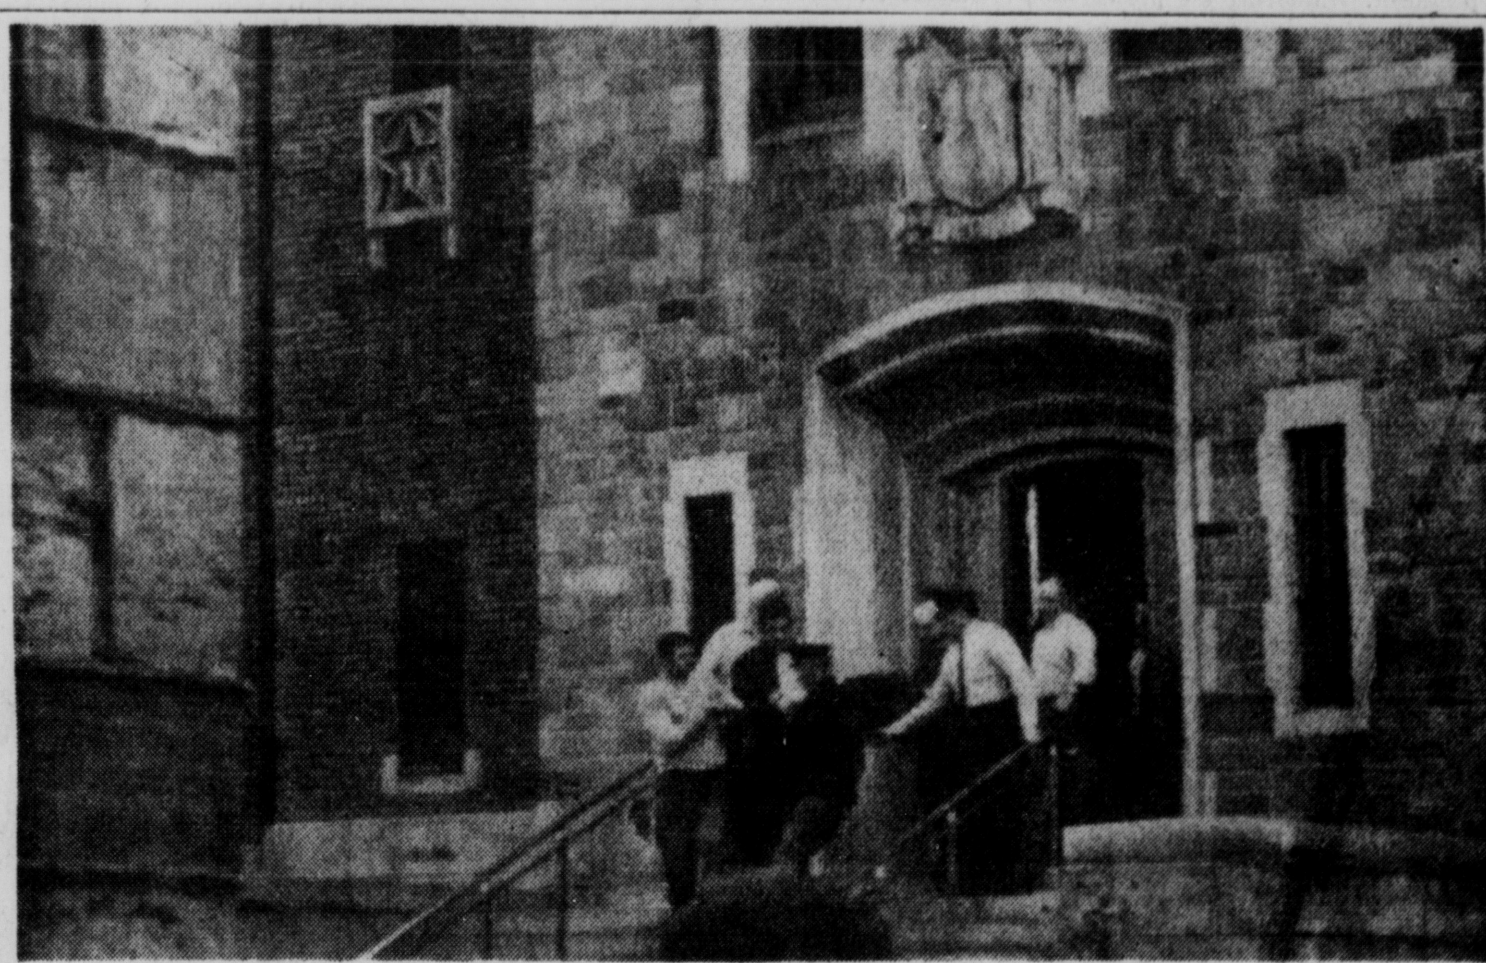

Most of Paradis' neighbors in the residential district of Pointe aux Trembles learned of the fire when they woke up later in the morning.

Paradis, however, had been up since moments after the fire broke out.

Before firemen arrived, he made an unsuccessful bid to fight the fire himself with an extinguisher and then to enter the upper two stories to save residents.

His hair was singed and his hands were badly burned in the effort.

In another recent fire in a Quebec old people's home, 38 persons died as the Repous du Vieillard, a rambling and antiquated frame building in Notre Dame du Lac, was totally destroyed Dec. 2, 1969.

THREAT OF FORCE ENDS IT — Auburn State Prison guard Charles Connors is removed from the main building and taken to a hospital after disturbances subsided at the institution Wednesday night. # Voter Coalition May Be Forced on Nixon WASHINGTON (UPI) — The announced candidate because he needs more national exposure.

Other national political news on Page 5.

Despite the glory of victories in Tennessee, the Republicans suffered setbacks in the South, where they have been expanding their beachhead for more than a decade. They also suffered significant losses in the Midwest, which has long been vital to GOP national election victories.

While retaining control of Congress, the Democrats enjoyed their greatest triumph in the statehouses. Even if they lose two still unsettled races, and Maine, where a recount is in prospect, they would show a 27 to 23 margin over Republicans in the governorships. The present lineup is 32 Republicans and 18 Democrats.

The Democrats were cheered most by winning governorships held by Republicans in the populous states of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Florida. These and other governorships provide them with new power bases, although electing a governor does not guarantee that his state will go for the presidential nominee of his party in the next election.

With the close Indiana race still undecided, the Republicans will hold at least 44 Senate seats in the new Congress and the Democrats 53. The other two seats will be occupied by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, the Democrat reelected as an independent, and James L. Buckley, Conservative party candidate who won with White House support in New York. The present Senate lineup is 57 Democrats and 43 Republicans.

With two House races still undecided in Kentucky and North Dakota, the new House will have at least 180 Republicans and 253 Democrats, a gain of at least seven for the Democrats. The present lineup is 246 Democrats and 189 Republicans.

In the South, the GOP took a Senate seat and governorship from the Democrats in Tennessee, while losing governorships in Arkansas and Florida. They also failed to win Democratic Senate seats in Florida and Texas and governorships in South Carolina and Texas, which were states on their list of major targets.

In the Midwest, Adlai E. Stevenson III unseated Republican Sen. Ralph T. Smith in Illinois. Democrats took governorships from Republicans in Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Oklahoma, and reelected a Democratic governor in Republican Kansas. Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., another Republican target, was reelected.

In the West, the GOP reelected Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, but Sen. George Murphy lost his senate seat to Rep. John V. Tunney. The GOP lost governorships in Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico and Alaska and failed to unseat Democratic senators in Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and New Mexico.

Despite the failure of his campaign to win control of the Senate, the President said he could speak with a stronger voice in foreign policy-making because he has "stronger support in the Senate." He said he now has a majority of four in the Senate in face-offs on foreign policy.

Nationally, the Republicans ran against violence in Tuesday's elections, and the Democrats ran against unemployment and inflation. Those issues had some impact, but personalities and local situations appeared to overshadow them in many of the states.

Mideast Cease-Fire Continuing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Suez Canal cease-fire will continue after its expiration time tonight, but there is no prospect for a resumption of peace talks despite the U.N. General Assembly resolution urging Israel and the Arabs to start negotiating again.

The semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram said President Anwar Sadat had ordered Egyptian forces to continue the truce for "a further short period," but not for another 90 days unless progress is achieved in the current peace efforts at the United Nations.

Sadat coupled this with an order for a full alert on the canal front "regardless of any political developments."

Al-Ahram said Egypt will continue to observe the cease-fire "until the completion of current discussion at the United Nations and accompanying international efforts." This was seen as a reference to Egypt's campaign in the U.N. General Assembly to force the Israelis to return to the indirect negotiations for which U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring is the go-between.

Israel had said earlier that it would continue to observe the cease-fire until fired on, even if there was no formal agreement to extend it. But the Israelis remained firm in their refusal to return to the negotiations until Egypt pulls back anti-aircraft missiles which Israel charges were shifted forward in the Suez area after the standstill agreement went into effect Aug. 7.

Egypt has been just as adamant in its insistence that its deployment of missiles along the canal has not violated the cease-fire and that none of the rockets would be pulled back.

The Jordanian government also was considered certain to extend the cease-fire though there has been no formal announcement from Amman.

The first 90-day cease-fire period ends at midnight in Israel and Egypt—5 p.m. EST.

Since the 1967 war, the Jordanian army has left offensive action against Israel to the Egyptians and the Palestinian guerrillas, and now it is so occupied trying to keep the guerrillas from overthrowing King Hussein that it probably could not take effective action against Israel if it wanted to.

The first 90-day cease-fire period ends at midnight in Israel and Egypt—5 p.m. EST.

Yugoslavia and 20 Asian and African supporters of Egypt pushed a resolution through the General Assembly Wednesday calling for a 90-day extension and immediate resumption of the Jarring talks. The resolution was approved 51 to 16 with 39 abstentions. The United States and Israel opposed it.

Israel had two objections to the resolution: It included a specific call for her to withdraw from the territories seized in the 1967 war and it calls for resumption of negotiations while ignoring the cease-fire violations charged by Israel.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban told the Assembly that this emphasis on Israeli withdrawal threw off balance the Security Council resolution of November 1967, which laid down the framework for a Middle East peace agreement.

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost told the assembly that the resolution was "clearly... put forward in behalf of one side to the conflict and represents the views of that side." He said its adoption constituted a "step backward, not a step forward."

Another Derailment Isolates Four Streets

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON Derailment of two engines and three loaded freight cars occurred shortly before 11 a.m. today on the Penn Central Railroad cutting off a large section of the downtown area of the city and creating a hazardous situation in the event of fire.

Two derailments of an engine of the Penn Central occurred Wednesday cutting off Delaware Avenue in the vicinity of Murray Street until the engine was put back on the rails and the freight train was moved.

Deputy Fire Chief Hugh Greer and police went to the scene of today's derailment after they were notified that the freight cars on the troubled train had completely blocked First, Second and Third Avenues and lower Delaware Avenue.

Deputy Greer said the three freight cars involved in this morning's accident were loaded with coal, according to information from railroad officials.

"A large section of the downtown area is cut off," Greer said. That condition continued until other engines of the railroad moved into the city and in the area.

shifted the freight cars. Fire officials told Penn Central men to haul sections of the freight train sufficient distances so that the blocked streets could be open to traffic.

Doctors and Fatum's Ambulance services were notified of the situation so that they could make plans to take other routes in the event of emergency calls in the downtown area.

Today's derailment occurred in the vicinity of Murray Street. Traffic was rerouted from Delaware Avenue through other streets to avoid any congestion in the area.

Town of Red Hook Budget Adopted

By TIM SCHUSTER

RED HOOK

The Red Hook Town Board adopted a $245,464.47 town budget for 1971 at a public hearing held Wednesday night at the Town Hall.

Supervisor Warren Simmons said that the amount to be raised by taxes is "down about $9,000 from this year's budget," and should be reflected, with the increased number of parcels, in some tax decrease.

Total figures in the 1971 budget are appropriations of $245,464.47; estimated revenue of $65,621.55; unexpended balance of $15,710.20; and the amount to be raised by taxes $164,132.72.

Broken down, the general fund appropriations are $80,503.13 as opposed to 1970's figure of $87,256.88. The estimated revenue is $41,048.70; unexpended balance of $7,000; and amount to be raised by taxes $32,454.43.

Highway fund appropriations include $67,064 for repairs and improvements; $3,500 for bridges; $37,679.90 for machinery; and $34,050 for snow removal and miscellaneous items.

There were modest increases in some salaries. Highway department men will get a 25 cent an hour raise, the town councilmen will get $230 more a year; three assessors will get $520 more a year in salaries and expenses; the town clerk's salary will be increased $265 to $4,500; and the supervisor's office figure of $4,500 including expenses remains the same.

The public hearing was attended by fewer than 10 people, including the Town Board.

SRS Guest House Destroyed by Fire

By WALTER S. CLARK

COTTEKILL Upwards of 100 volunteer firefighters from the local company and neighboring communities combined their efforts Wednesday night in battling flames that completely gutted a large two-story guest house and threatened the main building on the property of the Social Relief Society Old People's Home (SRS).

Fire Chief Ralph Temple Jr., of the Cottekill Fire Company, was in command of firemen at the scene and he summoned aid from outside companies through Mutual Aid.

The frame building involved in the blaze that was discovered shortly after 8 p.m., was known as the Colonial House. It was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

A spokesman at the resort said today that reservations had been made by 38 guests from New York City, New Jersey and other areas for the weekend.

Fire officials said the origin of the blaze is being investigated by police.

Through the efforts of the volunteer firemen the main building and other structures on the property were saved.

Guests in the main building remained calm as firemen fought the flames in the nearby guest house. A spokesman at SRS praised the firemen for their "good work" in confining the fire to the one building.

The spokesman said the structure was a complete loss along with furnishings, equipment. There was no monetary loss reported.

Firemen from Cottekill, High Falls, Stone Ridge, Bloomington and Rosendale were at the scene, according to a dispatcher at the County Fire Control Center. During the height of the blaze Marlinton fire units were on standby alert in Stone Ridge.

All fire units reported back in service at 1:27 a.m. today.

Another fire report came from Centerville. Chief Thomas Brennan said the alarm sounded at 3:20 a.m. during a heavy rain. He reported 25 volunteers responded and on arrival at the firehouse it was learned that the rain had caused a short circuit in the telephone system connected with the alarm setting off the fire alarm.

Brennan said the system was shut off and most of the volunteers returned to their homes. A few firemen stayed at the firehouse until it was determined there was no fire in the district.

County Drug Abuse Commission On Legislature Meeting Agenda

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON
The establishment of an Ulster County Drug Abuse Commission and the installation of time clocks for use by county employees are among a record number of resolutions to come before the Legislature at its Nov. 12 meeting in the county office building.

Melvin Mones (R-City), chairman of the Public Health Committee is asking that the county study the feasibility of establishing the drug abuse commission in view of the fact that the state has urged every county to create such a commission.

The state, he said, also suggests that the county Mental Health Board be named to serve as the drug abuse commission.

On this latter point, Mones, and his committee disagree. They feel that it would not be advisable to put such a vast program under Dr. Emeline Heyward, Mental Health director in view of the huge and overwhelming case and workload her department experiences now.

They suggest however that a parallel commission be established with 15 to 20 member selected from various geographical locations in the county. The Mental Health Board consists of only nine members, most of whom live in the City of Kingston, Mones said.

Referring to a number of drug programs presently in existence in towns in the county, Mones said that the county commission would enhance the individual programs in that information and funds could be pooled for a common purpose.

Funds for the drug abuse program are 50 per cent refundable by the state and the balance of the expenditure does not necessarily have to be borne by the county, Mones explained. It could possibly be obtained from the city, towns, the Office of Economic Opportunity, the U. S. Attorney General's Office or through the federal Health Education and Welfare Department.

The county could, depending upon the extent to which it wishes to become involved, go into preventative programs, treatment, teach-ins or half-way houses.

Mones said that Dr. Heyward has already sent a "letter of intent" to the state which was required by Nov. 1 if the county plans to establish a commission.

The call for time clocks for county employees has been made by Legislator Glenn A. DeBrosky (R-Dist. 7) who states that the county has not kept pace in policy regarding recording of employees time worked, vacations and sick leave. He suggests that the county Data Processing Department set up the new program.

The resolution, which was filed with the Legislature earlier this week has already met with some opposition from legislators and it is thought that perhaps the matter would be referred to committee for further study.

The Legislature is also expected to set the date of Nov. 24 for a public hearing on the upcoming county budget.

Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago (R-Dist. 8) is proposing a constitutional amendment which would bid of $127,385 for kitchen equipment for the Ulster County infirmary will also be taken and further state mandated a move will be made to phase programs imposed on local governments. Action on acceptance of a low bid of $127,385 for kitchen equipment for the Ulster County infirmary will also be taken and further state mandated a move will be made to phase programs imposed on local governments. Concluding, Savago expressed special appreciation to Sheriff William E. Martin for his offer to completely cooperate in providing a capable deputy for the position.

Full-Time Deputy For Office Building

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON
The appointment of a full-time deputy sheriff to protect the more than 800 persons who pass through the doors of the County Office Building daily, was announced today by County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago. The deputy will be named and assume his duties in the near future.

The action is being taken, Savago said, "in view of recent events that have taken place in public buildings, schools, court rooms and various federal, state and district offices."

"The time has come to recognize a potentially dangerous situation and institute such preventative measures as may be necessary," he explained.

County Legislators Douglas V. Dye (R-Dist. 2) chairman of the Social Services Commission and Clifford Snyder (R-Dist. 1) chairman of the Sheriff's Committee agree with Savago that the employment of a guard at the County Office Building as a preventative and deterrent measure is a necessary move to ensure the safety of the people using the building. To date the building has been free from other than minor disturbances.

Under the present system, without a deputy, employees have experienced a certain amount of pocketbook thievery and the taking of personal items. Persons, including youngsters, have been found on various floors of the six-story building with no apparent reason for being there. Two elevators and two flights of stairs service the building. All are easily viewed from the first floor corridor.

"We as legislators," Savago said, "have an obligation to the employees and visitors at the County Office Building to see that they can conduct business in a safe and peaceful atmosphere."

Concluding, Savago expressed special appreciation to Sheriff William E. Martin for his offer to completely cooperate in providing a capable deputy for the position.

Hurley Board Adopts Budget

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN

WEST HURLEY
Hurley Town Board in executive session Wednesday night, following a public hearing, adopted a revised budget for 1971 totaling $282,590.83 after cutting the preliminary figure by nine per cent across the board.

Supervisor George Schroeder said the preliminary budget figure was $310,539.37 which includes $132,722.79 general fund appropriations and estimated revenues of $58,003.

The revised budget leaves $226,755.96 to be raised by taxation.

Where the nine per cent cuts would be made was not immediately determined.

The adopted budget is $18,158.70 higher than last year's figure. However

$30,100.37 more must be raised by taxation over last year's amount. The supervisor said that approximately 100 persons attended the hearing in West Hurley firehouse. Some objections were voiced on the size of the highway budget. Supervisor Schroeder said the increased costs of materials and the purchase of new machinery is reflected in these increases.

and the men in the Highway

Department want a 15 per cent wage increase. There was also some objections to the proposed purchase of a police patrol car, the first for the township, the supervisor said. The town will advertise for bids for the car at some future date.

The supervisor noted there were some pay increases for town officials. The town clerk was granted a $200 increase to $3,200; the councilmen were raised $100 each to $1,100; the chairman of the Board of Assessors was raised $300 to

$2,400 and his two assistants will receive $100 each to $1,200.

The supervisor's salary of $2,500 will remain the same.

There will be a public hearing on a proposal to name a full-time assessor to replace the current system of three assessors. The Town Board will consider the views of the public on the question before making a decision on whether to have one full-time assessor or continue with the current method with three assessors.

The hearing is scheduled

Monday 8 p.m. at Hurley firehouse.

Results of State Senate Run; Lenefsky Looks at the Figures

By HUGH REYNOLDS

WEST SHOKAN
Figures, like beauty, may be in the eye of the beholder. At least that's the way David Lenefsky, unsuccessful Democratic-Liberal candidate for State Senator in Tuesday's elections apparently sees it.

The figures show that Lenefsky lost the race to incumbent State Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. by about 23,000 votes. Rolison's plurality in 1968 when he ran against A. E. Wooley of New Paltz was about 29,000.

"Two years ago Jan ran without the Conservative endorsement and carried Ulster County by 10,830 votes," Lenefsky said. "I cut that margin, even though he had the Conservative nomination this year, back to around

7,000 votes."

Lenefsky noted that he polled

5,400 more votes than gubernatorial candidate Arthur Goldberg in Ulster County, this year.

Lenefsky also took exception to reports on the extent of his loss in his hometown, Olive.

"No Democrat wins in Olive," he said. "It's solidly Republican. John Dyson (Democratic candidate for congress two years ago) lost Olive by 324 votes. Wooley lost it by 322. I only lost it by 50 votes."

Lenefsky considers his win in Woodstock by 140 votes, "a manor victory." Wooley lost it by 764 votes in '68 and Dyson lost it by 346 votes.

Lenefsky also figures he "won" Saugerties, based on the straight Republican - Democratic vote, by 140 votes. "Jay won Saugerties by 1,500 votes on the Republican line in 1968," he said. "It's unheard of for a Democratic senate candidate to carry Saugerties on his own ticket over the Republican."

Lenefsky also challenged Ulster County Republican Chairman Albert Spada to "prove" statements attributed to Spada that Lenefsky spent $60,000 in his campaign. Lenefsky says he spent $15,000. "I challenge

Spada to prove I spent $60,000 and if he can't I will accept a personal check from him for $45,000."

Spada was not immediately available for comment.

Election Day Plus One— Spiro a Question Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The political future of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew remains a question mark following what President Nixon has described as a Republican victory in Senate and House contests.

Some members of Nixon's inner circle remain divided on whether Agnew should be nominated for second place on the ticket in an expected Nixon bid for re-election in 1972. Some of Agnew's critics within the administration say they will be watching how the vice president conducts himself in the months immediately ahead.

The subject of Agnew's future was much-discussed in the closing days of the 1970 campaign, following publication of a report he might be supplanted two years hence by Rep. George Bush of Texas, provided Bush won his Senate race against Democrat Lloyd Bentsen.

Bush's loss to Bentsen has not ended speculation about Agnew's prospects. While it is true talk of "dumping" the vice president has been common to almost all recent administrations, at least some Nixon associates continue to have that question very much in mind.

Following Tuesday's balloting, Nixon limited his victory claim to Senate and House races "in which I have been campaigning." Talking briefly to newsmen Wednesday at the California White House before flying back to Washington, the chief executive made no mention of Agnew's more strenuous—and controversial—campaigning.

Herbert Klein, the administration's communications director, spoke to reporters Tuesday night about "a lot of criticism in terms of the vice president's role in the campaign."

However, Klein added that Nixon looks upon Agnew as the GOP campaigner who was out front where the heat was hottest and felt the vice president had been very effective on the stump.

In his post-election statement, Nixon claimed Republicans had gained "a working majority in both the House and the Senate for national defense and also for foreign policy."

He referred to the ideological attachments of members of the Congress that will meet in January rather than party labels. Democrats, of course, will continue to control both houses.

He predicted the election results, "as far as the Senate is concerned, will not go unnoticed abroad."

The chief executive noted both Democrats and Republicans are making victory claims "as is usually the case in an off-year election." He even bolstered the legitimacy of such a claim by Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien, saying

O'Brien "with justification points to the fact that in state races his party picked up several governorships."

But then he went on to draw a distinction between these contests and "national races" in which he said he had campaigned. Actually, Nixon put in a good word for GOP gubernatorial candidates in all 23 states along his campaign route.

On Guard

Tuesday's Indiana election ballots are heavily guarded on the first floor of the City-County building in Indianapolis, as city and county police are on duty. Precautions are needed due to the tight race for senator between incumbent Senator Vance Hartke and the challenger Republican Congressman Richard L. Roudebush. Sen. Hartke is shown as the winner by slightly more than 3,800 votes in a total ballot of 1.7 million. The possibility of a recount will be considered after the official canvass of the ballots in Indiana's 92 counties. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

An Indiana Vote Recount Held Probable

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A recount is likely in the Senate battle between Democratic Sen. Vance Hartke and Rep. Richard L. Roudebush following the impounding of voting machines and ballots in Indiana's 92 counties. The state election board, headed by Gov. Edgar D. Whitcomb, took the surprise action Wednesday after unofficial tabulations of Tuesday's election showed Hartke the winner in the closest U.S.

Senate election in Indiana's history. Indiana state police impounded voting machines, paper ballots and absentee ballots, casting doubt also on the final outcome of other statewide races won, according to unofficial figures, by Democrats.

The nearly complete tabulation by National Election Service (NES) showed 865,397 votes for Hartke to 861,520 for his opponent. According to the Democrats, Roudebush was a stand-in for President Nixon in this Indiana campaign. The President had campaigned in Indiana for Roudebush, as did other members of the Nixon family and administration.

The unofficial margin of slightly more than 3,800 votes in a total balloting of 1.7 million—less than one vote a precinct—set a new record for a close senatorial election in Indiana.

State law sets a deadline of Nov. 18 by which petitions for recount of votes may be filed. Such recounts may be requested in single counties. The cost of the recount is borne by the requesting candidate.

Finals on Rocky and Buckley Totals

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Final returns, with all of New York State's districts reporting, today showed Governor Rockefeller the winner by more than 700,000 votes over Democrat Arthur J. Goldberg in Tuesday's election. Conservative James Buckley won by 132,000 votes over Democratic Rep. Richard L. Ottinger in the U.S. Senate race.

Rockefeller's margin of victory was the biggest plurality of his political career. He received 53 percent of the votes cast.

Buckley received 39 percent of the votes cast as the combined vote totals of Ottinger and Sen. Charles E. Goodell outnumbered him. Pre-election predictions that Ottinger and Goodell would split the Liberal vote apparently proved correct.

Meanwhile, Senator Rockefeller reports he will vote with Republicans in the Senate because "I essentially believe in a two-party system as far as national politics is concerned."

Rockefeller's large vote in traditionally Republican upstate areas combined with his surprising strength in New York City where he got 47 percent of the vote compared with Goldberg's 49 percent.

Ottinger's failure to sweep the traditionally Democratic city also helped defeat him. Ottinger got 44 percent of the city's vote, while Buckley got 36 percent. Goodell attracted only 20 percent of the city vote, and 24 percent overall.

The results:
For Governor — Rockefeller Conservative Paul Adams, 424,476.
For U.S. Senate — Buckley, 2,276,321, Ottinger 2,144,381 and Goodell, 1,445,022.

Meanwhile in London, Mayor

John V. Lindsay of New York said Wednesday night he will not switch to the Democratic party in order to run for president in 1972.

"I have no plans to make any changes at all," Lindsay told newsmen on arriving for a five-day visit to Britain.

Lindsay, nominally a Republican, endorsed Democrat Arthur Goldberg's unsuccessful attempt to unseat Republican Governor Rockefeller in New York State. The endorsement had renewed speculation that Lindsay was contemplating a switch to the democratic party.

Lindsay, a liberal, was asked if he was shocked by Conservative James Buckley's win in New York over Sen. Charles E. Goodell.

"No, it was not entirely unexpected," he said. "It was not really a surprise to anyone. It is really too early to tell if there is a trend or drift to the left or right in the country."

Asked if President Nixon's tacit support for Buckley led to Goodell's downfall, Lindsay replied, "I don't know the answer to that. I would not want to comment on that at London Airport in any event."

And former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who will be returning to the Senate in January, has invited Lindsay to become a Democrat.

Humphrey was interviewed Wednesday on the CBS-TV program "Election '70, What Happened Last Night." Humphrey said that he had not talked to Lindsay about switching from the Republican to the Democratic party. "I'd like to see him in the Democratic party," Humphrey said. "I don't know what he's been waiting for, in the first place. He needs a weekend out of New York to do some clear thinking."

"I think well of him. He doesn't belong in the Republican party. He got trapped early in life and he ought to break that bad habit."

Lindsay endorsed the Democratic candidate, Arthur J. Goldberg, for New York governor, incumbent Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Voting Day Sidelights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Martha Mitchell says the Republicans can blame no one but themselves for their election losses. The number of women in the House increases by three. So does the number of blacks. Robert Taft Jr. says he's not about to be "a rubber stamp senator."

And the average age of members of the Senate will dip just a little. These were some of the sidelights of Tuesday's elections.

Mrs. Mitchell, wife of the attorney general, went to a fashion show in Washington Wednesday.

Reporters asked her about the election results and she grinned. "Want me to stand on my head?" she asked.

Turning serious, she said intraparty feuding hurt the GOP. "The Republican party... is bickering just like the Democratic party," she said and that accounted for some of its defeats.

New Black Congressmen

The election of Ronald V. Dellums of California, who was attacked by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew as sympathetic to the Black Panther party, and of Parveen J. Mitchell of Maryland and George W. Collins of Illinois will bring to 12 the number of Negro members of the House. All 12 are Democrats.

Harlem elected Charles B. Rangel, running with Republican and Democratic support, to the seat held by Adam Clayton Powell before Rangel defeated him in the New York primary last June. The three new Negro members occupy seats formerly held by whites.

First Puerto Rican Herman Badillo, a native of ### Women: 3 Debut, 1 Lost

The three new lady lawmakers will bring to 12 the number of women in the House. They are Mrs. Bella Abzug, 49, of New York City, a dove and a prominent spokesman for women's liberation; Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, 47, of Boston, an opponent of compulsory school busing to achieve integration; and Mrs. Ella T. Grasso, 51, a Phi Beta Kappa now serving her third term as secretary of state in Connecticut. But Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., was denied an eighth term. Democrat Mike McCormack defeated

Military Kidnaping

The first military man to be kidnaped since the political abductions in the Americas began—Gen. Cesar Rohn Sandoval, commander of Ecuador's air force—resulted in martial law and a 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Quito. Taking its cue from Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, the Ecuadorian government immediately took measures to apprehend the kidnapers and make difficult any negotiations for the general.

Sandoval had attended a reception at the Paraguayan Embassy. Driving home with a chauffeur at 1:15 a.m., his car was surrounded, his driver beaten. His abductors fled with him in his own car.

The kidnaping seemed to be political. Gen. Sandoval was one of the prime backers of the recent change from a constitutional to an authoritarian rule, which had the support of all armed forces. Campus unrest was the reason given for the coup.

The dictatorship was established five months ago. Maria Velasco Ibarra, 77, became president by fiat. His nephew, Jorge Acosta Velasco, believed to be the real power behind the dictator, became defense minister. He was out of the country when the kidnaping occurred.

The kidnaping of the chief of the air force of Ecuador followed by a week the fatal shooting of Gen. Rene Schneider, Army commander in neighboring Chile. The two incidents marked the first violent moves against military men since political abduction began in 1969 with the seizure of the U.S. ambassador in Brazil.

These moves, together with the example set in Canada by Trudeau, would stir the countries of this hemisphere to concerted action to stop the abductions and the murders. Victimized the military may be the big mistake of the kidnapers and assassins—it will bring about effective action to halt their terror.

Morally Bankrupt

"Centuries of civilization and 10 minutes of common sense" refute the findings of the Commission on Obscenity and Pornography, President Nixon declared, when he rejected its recommendations as "morally bankrupt."

The commission recommended repeal of all laws regulating the distribution and possession of explicit sexual material to adults who want it. Mr. Nixon said that the commission contends that the proliferation of filthy books and plays have no lasting, harmful threat on man's character. "If that were true," he said, "it must also be true that great books, great paintings and great plays have no ennobling effect on man's conduct." The commission's theory he rejected as contradicting civilization and common sense.

Mr. Nixon's repudiation made unanimous the rejection by the Senate, and a long list of administrative officials, of the commission's report. The President went further and said that smut shall not be simply contained at its present level but outlawed in every state in the union. And he called on the legislatures and courts at every level to act in unison to achieve that goal.

Since the commission specifically found no wrong spilling over on children if adults were permitted liberty of choice, Mr. Nixon's attack on this finding was particularly apt: "If the level of filth rises in the adult community, the young people in our society cannot help but be inundated by the flood. Pornography can corrupt a society and civilization. The people's elected representatives have the right and obligation to prevent that corruption."

The President's indignant words tell the whole story as responsible Americans see it.

Dark Is Danger for Driver

A few stubborn holdouts may still be around, but it seems safe to say that by now everybody is adjusted to the fact that the country is back on standard time.

Darkness suddenly comes much earlier, and as the earth's axis tilts farther away from the sun in the northern hemisphere, darkness will come earlier and earlier in the late afternoon and stay later and later in the early morning.

Both are times of peak driving activity.

The Street and Highway Safety Lighting Bureau reminds that night travel by automobile is three times more dangerous than day travel, even in periods of reduced traffic flow. Statistically, the fatality rate is 6.3 per 100 million vehicle miles after dark compared to 2.3 during the daytime.

The obvious moral: Driving caution, necessary at any time of the year, becomes more important than ever as winter approaches.

Two women sought in the fatal shooting of a policeman in the holdup of a Boston bank have been added to the most wanted list. Katherine Ann Power and Susan Edith Saxe also are said to belong to a small revolutionary group. Highly educated, they robbed "for the cause"; it does not excuse them, particularly as their "cause" is far from meritorious.

Where Did You Come From, Baby Dear?

David Lawrence Says Economic Situation Is Nation's Most Acute Problem

WASHINGTON — Maybe now that the election is over, Congress will pay some attention to the importance of restoring economic stability in the country.

During the recent campaign, uncertainty prevailed and unemployment rose. The automobile strike is having its repercussions throughout the economy. For, as substantial increases in wages are sought from the auto manufacturers, labor unions in other industries feel justified in moving up their demands for higher wages.

The fact is that, while the administration emphasizes the need for controlling inflation, the biggest single factor in continuing this hardship — namely, the rise in wage scales — is virtually untouched by any new legislation or orders from any regulatory agency.

The administration has taken the position that government control of wages and prices can do more harm than good — that it can slow down the economy. This would also be true if wages are permitted to go to extreme levels and force prices upward, for the only result that could be anticipated would be a setback to economic progress and a deep recession.

Thus far, by keeping interest rates at relatively high levels, the government has assumed that it has exercised about all the power it needs to apply to curb inflation. Actually, however, wages and prices continue to be the prime factors in the inflationary spiral.

One of the reasons for a reluctance to make any drastic moves heretofore was the possible impact on the congressional elections this year. Now that these have been held, and there are no national elections for another two years, pressure will be applied for effective steps to be taken to stop the decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar. This can be done only if prices are either held at current levels or reduced, and such a requirement cannot be met unless wage restraints are imposed.

The current recession has been going on for more than a year, but Congress and the administration have been reluctant to halt the wave of strikes and the trend of rising wage scales throughout the nation. Prices are so high that more and more foreign products are entering this country and competing readily in many instances. American businesses are suffering from that form of competition as never before.

The economic situation is the most acute problem before the country today. When tax collections are totaled for the year, it will be found that a large number of companies have experienced reductions in profits and the government has taken in far less revenue in taxes than expected. All this means bigger deficits in the budget and more government borrowing — an unhealthy condition for any country, even one which has such huge resources as America possesses.

With the 1970 election out of the way, there will be no excuse for further delay in tackling economic conditions as a whole, for the government will see a big drop not only in corporate tax revenues but also in income taxes from individuals. Just as important will be the losses sustained also by states and cities in local tax collections.

The truth of the matter is the American economy has slowed down. Expansion has been discouraged. Lots of businesses are cutting over time and reducing expenses in other ways. Planning is fraught with great uncertainty. Some businesses have tried lower prices in the hope this would stimulate demand, but have not achieved very satisfactory results. The tendency is to conserve money and spend as little as possible because the future is so unsettled.

This is surely a grave state of affairs for a nation with a gross national product of about one trillion dollars. Government has given the impression that it is avoiding any stimulus to business since it has not moved to reduce interest rates or to initiate the regulation of wages and prices in any form.

Certainly a constructive program is needed to deal with the economic problems ahead. Irrespective of politics, bipartisan agreements will have to be reached to adopt certain appropriations which are necessary for public welfare and defense even though deficits in the budget will result.

If the present course is pursued, the next two years will not benefit either political party, as economic conditions can hardly be expected to be improved by inaction. International questions are gradually being subordinated to domestic problems, and the main issue in the 1972 election may well be whether economic stability has been encouraged or discouraged by government policies.

Jack Anderson Says

Use of Indians in Peace Corps Called 'Unqualified Disaster'

WASHINGTON — The Peace Corps' noble experiment with American Indian recruits has ended in wholesale resignations, firing and a clumsy effort to cover up the debacle.

The disaster was so embarrassing to the Peace Corps that its formal evaluation report on the "Peace Pipe Project" has been classified "Confidential, Authorized Eyes Only."

This column has now obtained a copy of the 54-page document, which blames the administrators, not the Indians, for the failure. "Racism . . . bungling . . . bureaucratic deafness . . . and sheer ignorance" destroyed the Peace Pipe program and embittered many of the young Indians, charges the Office of Evaluation report.

The idea of sending Indians overseas as Peace Corps volunteers was adopted by the former director, Jack Vaughn, with the encouragement of Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., and his Comanche wife. The program finally fizzled out just after the new director, Joseph Blatchford, took office.

Peace Pipe Flickers Out
"Peace Pipe I" — the first of the two projects — lost 90 per cent of its trainees.

"Peace Pipe II" was supposed to profit by the mistakes. Some 33 optimistic Indians enrolled. During training in Puerto Rico, four quit. Six more dropped out after the group moved to California for advance training. When the survivors were assigned to Colombia, ten more quit. Firings, the draft and medical problems forced out most of the rest. In less than a year, only four remained.

Declares the report: "If one could imagine a totally evil man and suspect him of the worst sort of motivations toward American Indians, it would be difficult to conceive of him doing a more thorough job of messing with lives than the Peace Corps has accomplished."

"The Peace Corps has extremely limited capacity to tolerate, much less to include, people of minority backgrounds—in fact, the system has been designed to reject them, one way or another."

The report charges the Indians were not trained for Colombia, were discriminated against on draft deferments, were lied to about assignments and got such miserable medical care that many were ill for weeks with diarrhea, chills, cramps and fever.

The Peace Corps director for Colombia, in fact, didn't even know how many Indians had been assigned to him or where they had been sent. The deputy director thought there was only one volunteer in Colombia, when in fact there were five.

"No one was in control of it. The buck was passed rapidly, sometimes back and forth . . . The administrative bungling was unbelievable," states the report.

Doomed to Failure

The young Indians were told by one training official that "the program was doomed to be a failure." Another Indian youth grumped: "Peace Pipe seems like an effort to make us nice little WASPS so that we can fit in."

An outside consultant, according to the evaluation office, viewed the program with open disgust. Said the consultant: "Anyone who doubts there was racism can look at what Peace Corps did to help the two Indians who had draft problems. Nothing at all — while everyone was killing themselves for some of the white trainees."

Meanwhile the young Indians began to drift. "During 12 weeks of training, the trainees learned virtually nothing about what they would be doing or where they would be doing it," says the report.

"Does Peace Corps really believe that white 23-year-old, urban college graduates constitute our only manpower supply?" ask the evaluators. Quite the contrary should be true, they reply.

"Young American Indian men and women have the basic skills and the savvy our host (countries) are asking for — in agriculture, in animal husbandry and in general knowledge of the possibilities for change in rural life."

The report urges another try at Peace Pipe, which Blatchford has rejected. However, Peace Corps insiders say that Blatchford has at least learned from the Peace Corps report. His handling of minority volunteers is more sensitive than in the days before the Peace Pipe program's "unqualified disaster."

In fact, this week Blatchford named William Tutman, former Peace Corps country director in Tanzania, as head of a new Office of Minority Affairs. Tutman is supposed to guide minority businesses to Peace Corps contracts and to press recruiting of minority volunteers into the Peace Corps.

Egyptian Missile

Intelligence reports partially confirm the Cairo claim that Egyptians are manning the missiles in the Suez zone. Apparently the Russians will remain only long enough to teach the Egyptians how to operate their sophisticated new missiles.

The Russians have tried to keep their men out of combat in the Middle East except in emergencies. Soviet pilots, for example, flew some combat missions during the final stages of the fighting and a number of Soviet pilots were shot down.

Proof of this was picked up by U.S. monitors which listened in on the secret radio frequencies that the pilots used. There is evidence, however, that the Soviets want to keep their men out of the fighting.

Simple Faith Shames Politicos

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — In the flood of memories collected through seven weeks of campaigning in 10 states and across thousands of miles, I remember best no searing issue and no celebrated candidate but a young Mexican-American I met in Chicago.

He was the cab driver who picked me up at Chicago's airport and drove me 25 miles to my destination. He proved to be a most remarkable fellow, cheerful, buoyant, charged with energy, defiantly hopeful in an age where so much hopelessness is voiced.

This stocky lad had pulled himself away from the relative quiet of a ranch in the Texas Panhandle and plunged into the seemingly unmanageable chaos of a modern great city. Yet all he could see in the change was promise.

That very week, some of his youthful counterparts, styling themselves "Brown Berets," were breaking up an east Los Angeles rally for Democratic senatorial nominee Rep. John V. Tunney — wrecking his car, beating up an aide, endangering the candidate himself.

My young friend had other ideas. He drove a cab well into the evening hours. He loved the varied contacts with people. Then he went home each night and read for hours, while most of us would be sleeping. He read everything he could get his hands on, with a voracious appetite. It was self-education of the most determined kind.

He wanted to know what I did. When he heard I covered politicians, there were no dark mutterings of disillusionment or hate, no mention of the discrimination his brown skin must lay upon him. There were only interest and curiosity about the people I saw and covered.

When we reached my destination, he asked me when I was leaving town. It was to be four days later, at an early hour, but he volunteered to come and get me and return me to the airport. Then he asked:

"Please, would you do me a favor? When I pick you up Monday, will you give me a list of five or six books you think might be especially valuable for me to read?"

Monday morning, he showed up half an hour early and sat reading in his cab while I rushed to get ready. I had a book to give him and the list of others he had asked for. For another 25 miles, we talked of the promise of better things, of the value of real learning, of the need to find ways of moving people to accommodate enough of their differences — whether of color or religion or political view or economic status — to find a better, more unified upward course for this country and the world.

He left me uplifted, though I knew he was going along blindly without any tangible new faith to guide him. In all fairness, I can say I know osity about the people I saw and covered.

With this nation and the world in an incredible crisis of bewilderment about almost everything important to life, the American politics of 1970 was unbelievably dull (with a few exceptions) and so were most of the candidates.

Democrats too often sounded like old New Dealers, chiding the Republicans for economic failures. Their scurry for the center on the law-and-order issue, flags flying in their lapels, was embarrassing. Republicans seemed bent on winning by dwelling on gripes and fears. Nobody found even the glimmerings of the kind of new faith my young Mexican-American deserves to help spur on him and millions of others.

Freeman Readers Write Letters to Editor

Oct. 28, 1970
Voice of Democracy
 Editor, The Freeman:
 I wish to add my congratulations to the many already received to Joyce Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars in conjunction with their essay contest "Voice of Democracy." This is just one more illustration of the splendid community service and patriotic work performed by this fine organization. As long as organizations like the V.F.W. continue their efforts, the way of life so dear to us all is well assured.

Very truly yours,
 JOHN RAY MAYONE

Express Appreciation
 Editor, The Freeman
 The Kingston Area Council of Churches expresses its appreciation to your publication for your contribution to one of the most successful community church events in the history of the Council of Churches. Approximately 525 persons attended the Fair Street Reformed Church last night, including 94 Choir members. The church was filled to capacity with extra platform space having been built for the choir members. The hospitality of the Fair Street Reformed Church is to be commended, along with its most capable Choir Director, Percy Gazlay II.

Sincerely,
 HAROLD VAN ALLEN

Fluoridation
 Editor, The Freeman
 We wish to protest the proposed fluoridation of the public drinking water of Kingston, N. Y.

Inorganic Fluorine is not utilized in the human digestive system, it is a poison, and is so labeled. The labels attached to the drums of sodium fluoride read as follows: "WARNING: Sodium Fluoride, POISON if taken internally. Avoid breathing dust. Flush spillage to sewer. For industrial use only."

Do we want further pollution in our drinking water? The Fluorine that works as a catalytic agent in the body, and hardens enamel of the teeth, is not the organic calcium Fluoro-phosphate as found in natural conditions in Hereford Texas "The town without a toothache."

It is Sodium Fluoride and Sodium Silico Fluoride, as used in rat poison and is a by product of the aluminum industry. Local authorities would be most unwise to force citizens to mass medical treatments without being absolutely certain of the after effects on the human system.

Those parents who are so anxious to feed their children this rat poison should do so at their own risk in their own homes in a glass of water. This then will be their own responsibility, and not the responsibility of the Town Board.

Clay-Quarry Fight
 Editor, The Freeman:

The Clay-Quarry fight is over and Cassius Clay has earned himself another $200,000 plus.

A man who refused to serve in the armed forces of the United States on the grounds he is a minister continues to earn his living by beating men unconscious.

A local promoter, who promoted the closed circuit telecast, has stated in his opinion "Clay has been in virtual exile for three years. I think people realize that he has suffered greatly."

Has he? Did he serve his country when he was called? Did he serve alongside of other young men in the service who don't earn over $200,000 for a night's work? Did he serve his five year prison sentence or pay his $10,000 fine? No.

I urge all citizens not to support any Cassius Clay fights in the future in any way. I also urge all Little League organizations to return any money given to them as a result of the closed circuit telecast held in Kingston. The acceptance of any money can only be looked at as an approval by the Little League of a man who is not a good example for American youth to follow.

God Bless America,

Flag Disrespect
 Editor, The Freeman
 What of the person wearing the flag of U.S. as part of wearing apparel—shirt, pants, coat, etc.

It would astound you to learn that many whom I've talked to doesn't know it's against the law.

Then we have the contemptuous acts of using the flag as a form of social protest (burning) which is a wilful stupid act.

Rebellion is a normal part of growing up in the part of young people but it's time to distinguish between healthy dissent and destructive defiance.

The adolescents of today who turn away from teachers and parents relative to the accepted values for the elder generation is common and normal.

We can label this as creative rebellion but attacking the American flag as the symbol of law and order possessing authority in our society reveals character traits of a dangerous nature.

Many of these are or were problem children because the emotional development was for behind their age and such hostility being expressed in an infantile manner.

This behavior has been described by psychiatrists as a form of self-harm which has its roots in frustrated childhood, thus the misdirected adult motivations. Psychotherapy would help.

Everyone should understand regardless of their feelings of right or wrong relative to this nation's policies, that the flag of the U.S. is a national symbol because it represents all of us.

Such disrespect in any form means they are striking at the system or establishment and every body including themselves.

Tearing the flag, or burning it could well be a prelude to the same for government property, aircraft etc., because it's mutilating the entire social system structure.

With reference to young people engaged in such episodes, we should teach them constructive rebellion in charging the undesirable environment (as they see it) by being constructive and creative means concerned with the rights and authority of their countrymen.

I am ending this letter with the words of President of the U.S. Woodrow Wilson (World War I) with reference to our flag.

"The things the flag stands for were created by the experiences of great people. Everything it stands for were written by their lives. It is not embodied in sentiment but of history."

Sincerely Yours
 EDWIN J. HIGBY

Oct. 31, 1970
 The following is an open letter to Mr. George Turner, Town Councilman, Town of Saugerties.

Remaining Trash
 Please note my objections to the use of town equipment and personnel for the purpose of removing trash from private homes in the town of Saugerties.

Although I have no objections to seeing our town cleaned up, I believe that taxpayer supported men and equipment should not be used to do work for private individuals, especially when private enterprise is currently adequate to do the work.

If the clean-up program was to clean up our roadsides, and the several unauthorized dumps in our town, I could have no objections to it. But to remove trash and debris from individuals' garages, cellars, and attics is, in my opinion, an improper use of taxpayer men and equipment.

You would not permit your highway crews to build a private road for a resident, would you? And the reason why not should also apply to removing his trash.

If there are cases where a pile of trash is an eyesore and it can be established that the landowner involved is not financially able to have the refuse removed, then I could go along with the town having the work done? But I think the town should hire a local collector or a trucking firm to do the work, rather than use our highway crews and equipment.

Yours truly,

 I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate both the firemen and local police agencies for the outstanding jobs they have done in their respective areas of assignment in the past weeks. Oct. 31, 1970
The PHS Tolerance (Fluoride)
 Editor, The Freeman:

In 1942, instead of forbidding the dumping of fluorides in water supplies, the PHS set 1.0 ppm of fluoride, as a maximum tolerance in a public water supply. Then in 1946 and with no new "evidence of safety," it was raised to 1.5 ppm.

Again in 1961, it had been raised to 2.4 ppm, in spite of the fact that a PHS investigator said that 1.5 ppm, the factor of safety was 0, and another investigator had said that above 2.0 ppm, the permanent disfigurement of many of the users, far outweighs any hypothetical benefit.

A lawyer for a leading copper company made a statement, "that Salt Lake City would be fluoridated whether the people liked it or not." "How else," he said can we get rid of our fluorides?"

The safety of drinking fluoridated water has yet to be proved. Any child with mottled or fluorosed teeth, is a poisoned child. Fluorosis is the first sign of systemic poisoning.

Thank you,

Blacks Make Gains At Most Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time since the turn of the century, blacks won seats in the lower houses of the House of Representatives as a result of Tuesday's elections — up three to a total of 12. But the dramatic victories for political strategists in those blacks this year came mainly at the state and local levels.

There were four black candidates for the South Carolina Legislature. All were Democrats and all won. James Clyburn, one of the candidates from Charleston, said in a pre-election interview that victories by even two would give blacks some hope of gaining influence within the state's Democratic party machinery.

Two black candidates cracked the all-white Alabama house. One, attorney Fred Gray, ran on the regular Democratic slate; the other, state NAACP President Thomas Reed, under the banner of the black-oriented National Democratic party of Alabama.

Dr. John Cashin, a Huntsville dentist who formed the party two years ago to challenge the seating of the regular party at the 1968 Democratic National Convention, was trounced overwhelmingly in his challenge to George C. Wallace for the governorship.

But black candidates running on Cashin's NDPA ticket took over a few more county government posts, including a new black sheriff of Lowndes County, right next door to the tur-lent area ruled by Selma Sheriff Jim Clark wearing his "Never" button in the mid-1960s.

California voters picked a mild-mannered, 53-year-old black deputy administrator, Wilson C. Riles, to end Dr. Max Rafferty's eight-year reign as the outspokenly conservative head of the nation's largest public school system.

As state superintendent of public instruction, Riles became the first black to win a major statewide elective office in California.

Voters in California's 7th District elected Ronald V. Dellums, a tall, Afro-haired Berkeley city councilman, one of the three new black House members.

The other two new black house seats went to Parrin J. Mitchell, a Baltimore civil rights activist and political science professor, and George W. Collins, 45-year-old ward boss on Chicago's heavily black West Side.

All seven Democratic House incumbents were returned, and black Democrats kept control of two seats held by Reps. James Dawson, D-Ill., and Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y.

FORMER KING DIES —

Former King Peter II of Yugoslavia, the teen-aged monarch who held the reins of government for less than one month, died Tuesday at the age of 47. Peter became the nominal king of Yugoslavia in 1934 at the age of 11 when his father, Alexander I, was assassinated. Peter's uncle, Prince Paul, acted as regent and held the real power until he was toppled in a bloodless revolution when he signed a pact with Germany in 1941. Peter, then 17, took control but fled after Germany invaded and defeated Yugoslavian forces. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Adjournment In Rosendale

ROSENDALE of High Falls who reportedly has purchased the Rosendale Park and the High Falls Park area. The town budget and the matter of a franchise for a Wired TV System. Sheeley will operate the firm under the name Vida Cable and has asked the High Falls Park area were discussed briefly by Rosendale for a franchise for the High Falls Park area.

The board held the matter in a franchise fee should be charged to Sheeley. The preliminary town budget for 1971 was reviewed briefly and will be further discussed at tonight's meeting of the Town Board.

There was also some discussion on the growing number of snowmobiles in the township. The Town Board is considering some form of regulations to control traffic and safety problems. The supervisor said he had contacted the State Conservation Department on these regulations.

DeFelice said the matter of a traffic signal at Gristmill Road and Route 32, Tillson was pursued further. He said after the request for a traffic light was denied by the State Department of Transportation, he contacted Gov. SAUGERTIES hall tournament. The proceeds the Saugerties Athletic Association will be used as in the past to support the annual Saugerties Lions Club Scholarship Merit Awards. These scholarship awards amount to $400, given at the rate of $100 per year for each year for four years to any recipient.

Louis P. Francello and Bernard M. Rinaldi are the opposing captains of the two teams in competition.

Plans were made for a Lions Club Christmas holiday basket-workers will receive final instructions and worker kits. The workers are to visit every home in the community in the organizational meeting was held above sections and much of the for captains on Wednesday information obtained will be night in the parochial school, shared with the non-Catholic The parish was divided into 10 districts extending from the Greene County line to Barclay and Burt Streets and captains were assigned.

Another organizational meeting to divide the sections from Barclay Street, south to Route 32 cut-off was held Sunday and captains were appointed.

A final organizational meeting will be held the week of November 8 when captains and were the half-court basketball league, the girl's volleyball league, the softball tournament, the swim meet, girl's softball, touch football league, the men's volleyball league, men's basketball league, and other all-year round programs. At the conclusion of the question and answer period, Lion William D. Brinnier made a motion that $50 be donated to the Saugerties Athletic Association in recognition to their services to the community. The motion and unanimously carried. In addition, voluntary contributions were made by the local Lions to clear up a small remaining deficit in the Athletic Association's current budget.

Keeley remarked that he was overwhelmed and gratified by the Lions response to his address and that although he had not come to secure funds, but only to tell the story of the Saugerties Athletic Association, he expressed the thanks of the association for the assistance.

The meeting also featured the introduction of a new member, Edward Hellenschmit of Barclay Heights, sponsored by Lion Brinnier.

Women Voters League Work on Study of Polls

SAUGERTIES Saugerties League of Women Voters were given permission by the Ulster County Board of Elections to observe at the polls in Saugerties Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Steele, who is in charge of the project for the League, announced that observers were at polling places for short periods. They checked lists with questions such as: Is the polling place of sufficient size and appropriately located? Is the polling place properly equipped? Is the "no electioneering" rule enforced? If not, what infractions were observed? Were waiting periods noted? What types of problems came up during observation?

The Saugerties League is participating in a voting rights program instituted by the State League of Women Voters, using the new authority embodied in the amendment to the national League bylaws adopted by delegates to the May 1970 convention. Under this new program by-law, Leagues can now act in a number of ways to protect the citizen's right to vote, without a state or local League position on the subject.

Anniversary Events Slated At New Hurley

NEW HURLEY
The congregation of the New Hurley Reformed Church will climax its bicentennial year with a series of events this weekend.

A pageant entitled 800 Seasons of Moons depicting the early days of the church in the 1700s will be presented by a large cast Friday 8 p.m. at the church. The New Hurley choir will participate. Brent Backofen will be narrator. Mrs. Jane Wood authored and directed the production. Mrs. Wilson Edmunds was in charge of properties and Mrs. David Reardon, costumes.

An exhibit of memorabilia arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dennison will be on display at the coffee hour after the program.

A congregational dinner will be held Saturday night with past ministers as guests and Dr. Norman Thomas, Dean of New Brunswick Seminary as guest speaker. Paul Rossner will serve as toastmaster. Women of the Shawangunk Reformed Church will cater the dinner.

Other anniversary events are planned for Sunday worship 11 a.m. and Communion service at 4 p.m. The pastor, the Rev. David Reardon will officiate.

On the return trip, a brief stop was made at the Matthew Story farm to pick up cider for a cider and doughnut treat upon the return to school.

The 29 second grade students were: Jo Ann Brandt, Martin Castle, Joseph DeFino, Melissa Petty, Bobbi Ann Gehring, James Gilbertson, Diane Gutheil, Michelle Hart, Thomas Hoffman, Michael Janeczek, Philip Landell, Jeffrey Layman, Denise Miles, Lisa Miller, John Millett, Maryanne O'Connor, Georgette Oliveri, Jennifer Parker, Rosa Paviak, Donald Penny, Carl Ross, Jami Roth, Jeffrey Seaman, Cynthia Spring, Cheryl Stiso, Venise Traficante, Timothy Valk, Richard Vickery and Brian Weeks.

The parents accompanying the group were: Mrs. Ernest Millett and Mrs. George Petty.

Visitations Near 500 at Local School

BLUE MOUNTAIN The American Education Week observances at the Grant D. Morse School attracted many visitors all throughout the week.

Close to 500 daytime visitations were made as parents availed themselves of the opportunity to see their children in their classroom settings. All were invited to visit the school any day between 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The evening program was attended by about 400 parents.

Other highlights of the week included the featuring of art exhibits, the opportunity for parents to participate in the hot lunch program, an assembly program, and the membership drive for P.T.A.

According to principal, Patrick Buongiorno, many completed the reaction sheets which were available in the lobby at the school. Typical of the comments was this one: "My visit was very enjoyable. Having a parent come to the classroom lets your child feel he is important and that you're interested enough in him to take time to come."

500 Visit School Gymnasium Feature

SAUGERTIES More than 500 visitors crowded the Main Street School gymnasium beyond the point of standing room only last week. The occasion was a 90-minute spectacular presentation by a cast of about 250 students, under direction of Henry Smith, physical education teacher.

Students from each grade level, 1-6, performed without prior rehearsal, in groups of 50 to 60, the same routines that they engage in during typical physical education classes. Activities ranged from very simple motor coordination techniques with a ball or bean bag, to sophisticated interpretative dance and tumbling routines, square dancing, and also complicated gymnastics on the springboard and vaulting box.

The above described open house night served as the kickoff for American Education week which was observed during the week of Oct. 26-30. During this week parents had been making visits to school observing all areas of instruction and familiarizing themselves with the educational programs being provided for children.

Daytime visitors at the school numbered 313 parents.

Busy Weekend Scheduled for Senior Citizens

SAUGERTIES Senior Citizens of Saugerties have a big weekend coming up.

Friday night the Sigma Club of Saugerties High is hosting a party for all the senior citizens of Saugerties. It will be held in the cafeteria of the high school at 7:30 p.m. There will be fun, refreshments and dancing. Music provided by a band free of charge through the Musicians Performance Trust Fund of Local Union 215. Transportation will be provided.

Saturday at 1 p.m. all the senior citizens of the Town of Saugerties will be treated to a special matinee at the Orpheum Theater. Most of the senior citizens saw this famous movie, "Gone With the Wind" years ago but they will find it just as entertaining the second time around. This special showing for the senior citizens is sponsored by the Saugerties Recreation Department of the town.

No signing up necessary for either of these affairs as long as you belong to the "over 60 crowd" and are lucky enough to live in the town of Saugerties.

Homemakers Projects

BARCLAY HEIGHTS Refreshments were served by meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Mayone and Mrs. of Mrs. Wagner, Barclay Lane, Carl Mayer. The next business Saugerties on Nov. 19.

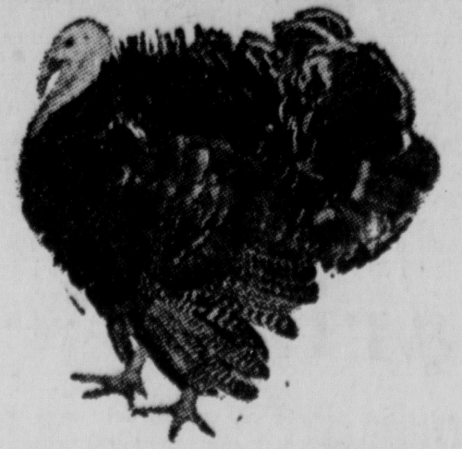

Several projects were discussed and selected at the regular meeting of Sawyer Homemakers held recently at the home of Mrs. Edward Carey, Appletree Drive, Saugerties.

A lesson on the making of candleholders is to be held on Oct. 29 under the leadership of Mrs. John Welton. A Sunshine Club was set up under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Cyr and Mrs. Robert Wagner.

Following the business meeting Mrs. John Vozdick taught the group the art of making bur-lap flowers.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

How do you believe something you can't actually look at—like the audience for your advertising?

You know that some people out there buy and read our paper—but how many, where do they live, where do they shop for their copies, and how much are they willing to pay?

Best way we know of to "see" a circulation audience (and be sure it exists) is through the facts and figures of the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

No problem to look over our circulation audience—just ask to see a copy of our latest ABC audit report.

Women to Get Bigger Role In Mass Liturgy

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican today issued a detailed reform of the Mass allowing women a greater role in the liturgy. It also in effect sanctioned such musical modernization as rock and soul Masses if the local bishop approves. Women now can lead the congregation in hymns and scripture reading, except for the Gospel, and can serve as usherettes and collection-takers. They are still barred from serving as acolytes, even in convents or women's chapels. In many Roman Catholic communities, including those in the United States, women already have been performing the permitted duties on an experimental basis. The reform also permits: —Celebration of Mass outside the church, such as in the home, but only with permission of the local bishop in cases of "real need." —Selection by the local bishop of music for the Mass, without excluding any instrument or style. —Experiments in the Mass within "clearly defined limits,"

Hudson River Oil Spill Is Contained

VERPIANCK, N.Y. (AP) — A massive diesel oil spill from a ruptured oil tank at a pier here has been mostly contained, a Coast Guard spokesman said today. About 130,000 gallons of No. 2 fuel spilled into the Hudson River from the tank Wednesday, causing a five-mile long oil slick. This Westchester county community is about 30 miles north of New York City. The Coast Guard said a dike was being built around the ruptured tank, one of five owned by the British Petroleum Co. The spillage was stopped by pumping water into the bottom of the tank, raising the remaining oil above the leak. A Coast Guard spokesman said the diesel fuel presents no hazardous fire danger, but nevertheless asked residents to be especially careful with any outdoor fires. Also at the scene were members of the State Department of Environmental Conservation and the Clean Water Resources Administration.

Library Adds 2 Hours

WOODSTOCK The Board of Trustees of the Woodstock Library agreed at a meeting this week that efforts will be made to open the library for two additional hours a week during 1971. Specific details will be announced as soon as they are determined. The library is presently open 20 hours a week and with this additional two hours it is felt that the library services will be even more helpful to the community.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (UPI) — West Virginians, seizing a rare opportunity to reduce their taxes at the polls, have wiped off their lawbooks the century-old "capitation" tax. The levy required all males over 21 to pay $1 annually to the state. Officials complained the cost of collecting the so-called "head tax" was greater than the returns some years. The vote was 239,926 to 112,418 Tuesday.

Stedge Sharp Critic Of Ulster Budget

Robert Stedge former Ulster Justice and last year's unsuccessful Conservative candidate for supervisor said today that the Town Board was "gouging the public by presenting a budget that would more than double the present local general tax and increase the local highway tax by over 25 per cent."

His strongest criticism was reserved for Carmine Sabino, the present supervisor, who, he said after only 10 months in office during which time "his administration has done little of a constructive nature, has arbitrarily submitted a salary increase of 40 per cent for himself."

"It's interesting to note that during this off year in local elections, salaries of the elected town officials are being raised," Stedge said. "whereas the other town employees are given no appreciable increase, obviously in an effort to curb inflation by holding down other spending."

"Another example of gouging," according to Stedge, "was an increase of almost 80 per cent in the salaries of the assessors."

Stedge noted that he had always been a proponent of decent salaries for local officials, but the salaries had been adjusted just a year ago according to the recommendations of a bi-partisan salary study group and that perhaps there would be justification for a 10 per cent increase although there are few residents of the town who have been so fortunate. Other proposed increases for officials he said, include 20 per cent for the justices who received better than a 40 per cent increase last year, over 20 per cent for the councilmen who received better than a 35 per cent increase last year, a 13 per cent increase for the superintendent of highways, although he received more than a 20 per cent increase the previous year and is given $2,000 extra for mileage.

Stedge said that the problems that confronted the town a year ago are still present and nothing visible has been done to correct them. Traffic congestion on Albany Avenue and 9W is worse and still there is no promise from the state regarding correction. Work was to start in the sewer district by this fall, but hasn't, he noted.

The Town Board will pass a current proceedings in regard piece of legislation which forces the proposed budget vindi everyone to hook up to the cated his action," Stedge con sengers within 90 days although chuded.

ALBANY Police will expand the data in its memory components at Albany to include pistol permit records, missing persons as distinct from fugitives, stolen property not available from the FBI computers and the vehicle identification numbers on cars that have been junked.

The new computers also will permit more local police departments to obtain terminals giving them direct access to stored data. There are not more than 200 terminals, including 85 at State Police stations, and 110 at local departments including sheriff's offices.

Kirwan said the new equipment will have a capacity for more than 1,000 terminals, including 640 mobile terminals that can be installed in patrol cars.

A pilot project with four mobile transmitters and receivers will be conducted next year to ascertain their effectiveness. Inquiries will be tapped out on small teletype-like machines, with the messages transmitted by radio to towers and thence to Albany by land lines. The answers will be received visually on a television-type receiver using a cathode ray tube.

With the enlarged capacity of the new computers, it is expected that the response time to inquiries will be greatly reduced. The average time for an answer from the computer is now about 17 seconds, but can be two minutes or longer depending on the volume of messages backed up. The additional lines that will be available with the new equipment are expected to cut response time to an average of three or four seconds.

It is planned to interface the new computers with the computers of the Department of Motor Vehicles, the New York State Identification and Intelligence System, the New York City Police Department, the New Jersey State Police and possibly other state police computers, Kirwan said. This will permit access by teletype message to the data stored by these agencies.

Kirwan noted that in addition to its communications functions, the new computers would be used to perform many clerical and record-keeping operations, which will not only save employe time, but will provide information not now available.

Telephone Co. Gets Permission To Hike Rates

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—State Supreme Court Justice T. Paul Kane held today that the New York Telephone Co. could raise its rates to produce $175 million in additional annual income.

The Public Service Commission had allowed a $120 million increase, instead of the $175 million the company had sought. Kane, ruling on a company appeal, decided that to deny the utility income sufficient to produce the extra $575 million was "confiscatory."

Project Pullout Of Division at Korean DMZ

WASHINGTON (AP) — A United States Army Division that now guards about 18 miles of the Korean demilitarized zone, probably will be pulled back and put in reserve when American forces are reduced in South Korea, Pentagon sources say.

The reduction of U.S. forces in the Republic of Korea will begin around mid 1971, when some 20,000 men are to be cut from the 62,000-man garrison. Details of the withdrawal are still being talked over with the Seoul government, but it's expected one division of the two now in Korea will be pulled out slowly. The remaining infantry division will take up a reserve position, and the South Korean Army will move into the 18-mile stretch, sources indicated.

McNamara. Guinn is on a fact-finding mission ordered by Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, chief of naval operations, aimed at determining why officers and enlisted men are leaving the Navy in large numbers after their first tour of duty.

Narcotics Hearing Adjourned in Court

KINGSTON hallucinogenic drugs third degree. A preliminary hearing for Gary Naccarato, 18, of Tillson, who was arrested during a series of narcotics raids by Kingston Police on the morning of Oct. 29, was recessed Tuesday after a partial examination before City Judge Hubert A. Richter.

Naccarato was charged with criminal sale of dangerous drugs third degree, a felony, and criminally selling

After witnesses for the prosecution, including Detective Meyer Levy and Investigator Thomas Mayone of the district attorney's staff were called, the hearing was adjourned for further testimony on Wednesday, Nov. 11. Attorney Francis Martocci appeared as Saturday at 9 a.m. The youth counsel for the defendant, and was arrested Tuesday by police Ellen G. Donovan, assistant district attorney, is prosecuting on the Boulevard. Taylor allegedly had in his possession a quantity of marijuana, according to police. He is specifically charged with an ad-criminal possession of a dangerous drug sixth degree.

Virginia Area Gets Mantle Of 13 Inches

By United Press International
More than a foot of snow fell on parts of the Appalachians late Wednesday and early today, up to two inches of rain soaked the mid-Atlantic states and icy weather dipped far into Dixie.

Montebello, Va., reported 13 inches of snow. Nine inches was reported at Hot Springs, Va., and driving was hazardous over most mountain roads.

Frost or freeze warnings were in effect this morning from the Carolinas to Georgia, Alabama and northwest Florida. The National Weather Service also said frost or freezing temperatures were possible across the Gulf states to south-central Texas.

Rain and showers continued in the Pacific Northwest and spread south into California and Nevada. Fair skies covered the central region of the United States.

Listen Veteran — Grants, Insurance and Pension

Children of deceased or seriously disabled veterans can apply for regents grants of up to $450 yearly to help finance their college education or nursing school studies. An applicant must be the child of a member of the Armed Forces who died while on active duty during World War I, World War II, the Korean War, or since October 1, 1961. Or, the applicant must be the child of a veteran of one of these war-time periods and have a service-incurred disability of at least 50 per cent. New York State resident requirements for both the child and the veteran must be met in either case. Candidates for the grants should possess minimum academic qualifications to complete successfully the programs of study in which they enroll.

World War II veterans holding GI term insurance will find the premiums costly as they grow older. The premiums increase every five years until they become prohibitive—and just when income is lower. Where possible, it would be advantageous to convert to one of several permanent plans with a stable premium. If you're still holding a GI term policy, stop in at your local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs (or) Veterans' Service Agency located at County Office Building, Kingston. Office hours: Monday through Friday, 9:00 to 5:00 p.m. and get the facts on premium costs.

Annual income questionnaires will be arriving about Nov. 1 for veterans, widows, and dependent parents receiving monthly non-service-connected VA pension checks. The forms must be properly completed and filed with the VA before the January 15, 1971 deadline—but don't wait until then to fill them out. You may forget. Failure to return them could result in loss of future checks and the possibility of repaying all checks received in 1970. Need we say more?

Red Hook Airman in Skill Meet

U. S. Air Force Technical Sergeant Maurice P. Delage, son of Mrs. Roger P. Delage of 53 E. Market Street, Red Hook, is participating in the Aerospace Defense Command's (ADC) "William Tell" fighter-interceptor weapons meet at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

Sergeant Delage is a weapons director technician working with the F-101 Voodoo team from the 60th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Otis AFB, Mass. His team is matching its skill against three other active Air Force units, four Air National Guard teams and a Canadian all-weather squadron in the week-long meet which ended Oct. 31.

He supports the team by directing its aircraft—using radar—to the vicinity of the target from his position in the ground control center. He is permanently assigned to the 762nd Air Defense Group at North

MAURICE P. DELAGE

Truro Air Force Station, Mass.

The arena for the competition is the huge Air Force test range over the Gulf of Mexico and the target for the interceptor pilots is the elusive Firebee drone. The drone, launched from the ground, flies at more than 600 miles per hour at altitudes of 50,000 feet. The pilots' job is to intercept and destroy the "invader."

The purpose of the competition is to evaluate the ability of crews to maintain, load and use their defensive weapons under simulated combat conditions, to demonstrate the capability of interceptor weapons systems, and to recognize the best aircrew and controller teams in the air defense system.

Sergeant Delage's unit is part of ADC, which protects the U. S. against hostile aircraft and missiles.

The sergeant, who has served in Vietnam, entered the Air Force in January 1956. He is a 1955 graduate of Red

Warm and Cozy Winters for Oil Burning Homes

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON Oil burning homes in the Hudson Valley are expected to be warm and cozy this winter as area fuel distributors generally agree that widespread rumors threatening a fuel shortage crisis for the Northeast are vastly overexaggerated.

Most of the Kingston area oil dealers told The Freeman that there is no chance of a rumored rationing of home oil supplies this winter. In addition, they guarantee continued service to all area homeowners in coming months.

While the homeowners appear safe, however, area businesses, industries, schools and hospitals may feel the effects of a possible shortage of heavier grade fuel oil used for commercial purposes.

Because of a variety of factors, there is expected to be a shortage of No. 4 and No. 6 heavy oils in the Northeast. And, it was added, commercial users may have to pay dearly for enough of the fuel to meet their needs.

Despite the predicted shortage of heavy grade oils, it was noted, commercial users in the area will be able to switch to the lighter grade No. 2 fuel, which is used by most home heating systems, with little difficulty. To underscore their guarantee that private homes have nothing to worry about, area fuel distributors said that there is more than enough No. 2 oil to provide the heating needs of both homes and industries.

The expected shortage of heavy industrial fuel oil, or residual oil, is due in large part to a reduction in this country's Mediterranean crude oil supply over the past 12 months. In addition, officials of the Northeastern Regional Office of the Humble Oil and Refining Co. in Kingston cite a shortage of oil tankers, a shortage of natural gas and increased demands for clean air standards, and clean fuel, as primary reasons for the expected shortage. Humble officials added that their "Caribbean units" continue to produce the crude oil fuel, but, they add, "not fast enough." As a result, they have asked that production at the Caribbean sites be increased by an estimated 60,000 barrels a day. Other leading fuel distributors and refiners are expected to follow the same course. Local industries don't appear to be too worried about the possible crisis. A spokesman for International Business Machines in Kingston said that the Neighborhood Road plant usually uses a mixture of No. 2 and No. 4 fuel oil, in an attempt to reduce the sulphur content in the fuel. But, it was noted, "We don't anticipate any problems this winter."

The problem, The Freeman was told, appears to concern the price of heavy oil rather than the supply. Prices for the heavier grades are expected to increase with the demand and the decreasing supply. But the lighter home fuel is not expected to increase in price any more drastically than in past years. Not only is this year's fuel supply for homeowners more than adequate, stated officials of the Hudson Valley Oil Heat Council, but the supply is three to five per cent higher than 1969. As for possible rationing

Rehabilitation Center Announces Closing

KINGSTON Closing of the physical therapy department at the Children's Rehabilitation Center, Webster Street, was reported at the recent meeting of the United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County Inc.

Mrs. Charlotte Peck, center director said that the department was forced to close as of Oct. 30 due to the resignation of the therapist. No replacement has been found as yet. A letter has been sent to parents of children involved by Edward deGroff, president.

Mrs. Gerald Sumner, chairman of the personnel and policy committee, responsible for the recruitment and selection of staff, reports that in spite of all efforts to date, there is no physical therapist on the immediate horizon.

De Groff said that new approaches to the problem would be examined and every effort made to fill this vital need. He then introduced Mrs. Nina Eaton, president, and Jay Schleichorn, executive director of the United Cerebral Association of New York State, Inc.

This was their first visit to the new center and they were generous in their praise of the new facilities and present program, but suggested that a possible expansion of services might be desirable.

Schleichorn announced that de Groff had volunteered and been appointed to the Legislative Committee of the State CP Board of Directors; and that Mrs. Martin Oberkirch Jr., already a member of the state board, has been designated chairman of the Affiliation Committee. These are both important posts.

He then introduced the subject of legislation covering the problems of the handicapped; and in reference to its importance, cited the successful campaign, this year, to make vaccination against Rubella (German Measles) compulsory. Immunization for small-pox, diphtheria, polio, and measles is already mandated. This is a positive step in the drive against cerebral palsy, and other crippling birth defects caused by this contagious disease, when contracted by mothers in the early months of pregnancy.

AT REHAB MEETING — Mrs. Nina Eaton, president of United Cerebral Palsy Association of New York State Inc., Edward deGroff (C) president of Ulster County CP and Jay Schleichorn, executive director of the state association make presentation at a recent meeting of the local organization. Mrs. Martin Oberkirch Jr. and deGroff have been named to key posts with the state organizations. (Wagenföhr photo).

Rochester Discussion On Proposed Trailer Park

A proposed trailer park for the Town of Rochester was discussed at a special executive meeting of the planning board and the zoning commission at the Accord Town Hall recently.

The trailer park was proposed by Jasper S. Worley for the Queens Highway in Accord. The consensus of opinion of the 11 members present was that a development of this size and scope would be detrimental to the town, which is not equipped to handle a concentration of this magnitude, particularly in regard to fire equipment, and educational services, should they be required.

The Worley Development would be on 197 acres, with 463 mobile homes and 230 travel trailer sites. Two parking spaces were to be provided for each mobile home with minimum lot sizes of 60 by 100, or 6,000 square feet.

It was agreed that a recommendation be made to the Town Board to hire a professional consultant, for a short period, to gauge the impact of such a proposed development on the Town, and the name of Robert C. Kren, who made the original study for the township, was mentioned.

Since the two Public Hearings held by the Zoning Commission recently did not mention size and density, it was suggested to the Town Board that these items be included in their Public Hearing on the Zoning Ordinance.

A minor change was also made in soil mining excavation permits. There was a limitation of three years on such permits with one renewal for two years, and the change permits additional two year renewal periods.

It was also suggested that the Town Board adopt the Minimum Property Standards for Mobile Home Courts, put out by the Federal Housing Administration.

With these changes and suggestions the Zoning Commission submitted the proposed Zoning Ordinance to the Town Board for their approval. As required by law the Town Board will also hold an additional Public Hearing on this Ordinance.

One major change in the previously approved Development Plan for the Town was made from the text and that was the change from residential building sites of half-acre, one-acre and one and a half-acre, to uniform one acre zoning. Since this change was made in the original Development Plan, the Zoning Ordinance was automatically changed to reflect this.

He has been Appeal.

"The esteem in which Ben Lonstein is held by his colleagues on the Board is demonstrated by his long tenure as president of the Board. But, we believe that it is not enough for the Directors of the hospital to so honor this man. We feel that the entire community should come forward to say 'we appreciate this service.'"

"One of the best ways of demonstrating this appreciation," Resnick noted, "is by supporting the hospital. The $100 a couple dinner dance is the only fund-raising program undertaken by the Board. It provides some means for continuing hospital progress—the purchase of new equipment, the addition of new services—the improvement of patient care."

Lonstein's service to the hospital began in 1945 when he became a director of Veterans Memorial Hospital, which became Ellenville Community Hospital when the present hospital was constructed. He has been president of the Board for 15 years.

Born in Brooklyn, Lonstein became a resident of the Ellenville area as a young boy when his family moved here. He attended the Ellenville Public School and graduated from Ellenville High School in 1927 as president of his graduating class.

Working as a hack-driver during the summer, driving vacationers to and from the mountains, he paid for his education as an undergraduate at Fordham University and at New York University School of Law from which he graduated in 1934. Soon afterward he was admitted to the New York State Bar, became affiliated with the late Leroy Lounsbury and with him organized the law firm of Lounsbury and Lonstein on June 1, 1935. In September of that year, he was married to the former Lillian Peyser. The Lonsteins have two children, a son, Allan and a daughter, Mrs. Susan Callan of Rochester; and a grandson, Todd William Callan.

Lonstein was admitted to the Bar of the United States District Court of the Southern District of New York in 1938. He is presently a member of the law firm of Lonstein and Stapleton, a firm which he organized with Robert V. Stapleton in 1955. Mr. Lonstein is a member

Pakistan and India — Differences Tragic for Both

(UPI Foreign News)

Pakistan and India have become the "laughing stock of the world," says Pakistani President Agha Mohammad Yahya Khan, because of their inability to settle the quarrels which have divided them since independence in 1947.

A source of world irritation, perhaps, frustration, certainly. In looking upon the subcontinent it is possible to draw a smile from the fact that an alarm clock's failure prevented U.S. Ambassador Kenneth B. Keating from seeing Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi off on her way to the anniversary session of the United Nations, with resultant injured feelings among the Indians.

One does not, however, smile at Indian reaction to the U.S. decision to renew arms sales to Pakistan.

"Against whom can Pakistan use their war materials?" demands Mrs. Gandhi.

Phrase Scarcely Applicable
As a phrase, "laughing stock" scarcely would seem applicable to any problem involving more than 650 million people which is the combined population of Pakistan and India.

Their differences, says Khan are "tragic for both of us."

There would have been no quarrel over Kashmir and the first great failure for the United Nations.

And there would have been no 1965 war between the two, primarily on the issue of Kashmir.

There would have been none of the religious killings between Muslim and Hindu. A subcontinent united in one nation need not have undergone the humiliation suffered by India at the hands of Red China in their border dispute. There need have been no dispute at all over the largely useless Rann of Cutch and today's dispute over waters of the Ganges.

Nor need there have been the circumstances which made the division of the Indian subcontinent into India and Pakistan probably history's most expensive social experiment.

Aid Totals More

As of now, United States aid to India totals more than to any other country, including South Vietnam. It is almost $9 billion.

Food supplied to India under an agreement since Sept. 30, 1964, comes to more than $1.2 billion.

At the end of December, 1969, U.S. aid to Pakistan from 1950 exceeded $2.1 billion.

In the last 20 years, the United States has given to Pakistan more than $1.3 billion in food grains, mostly wheat.

As result of the war in 1965, the United States halted arms sales to both India and Pakistan. It modified the ban in 1967 to sell spare parts to Pakistan and non-lethal equipment to both sides. This month it was disclosed the United States was resuming arms sales to Pakistan.

Reading Skill Given Boost By Program

By JACK R. PAYTON

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) —

About 34,000 students in public schools serving disadvantaged largely black, areas of New Orleans are finding out what a little private enterprise and new thinking can do for their generally poor reading skills.

Teachers at 49 elementary schools in low income areas are armed (at a cost of $1 million in federal funds) with the latest in reading education materials private industry has developed. They are also able to call on top flight managerial skills from private industry for help in putting their new tools to use.

Dr. Alton Cowan, Orleans Parish (county) school superintendent, said a testing program in the schools showed many students reading at a level two to three years below normal for their age. Cowan said the new program was based on an analysis of the tests.

Although the new program involves many new reading materials, Cowan said the primary emphasis is not on hardware but on the individual. "Materials alone are not the answer," he said. "The program must be custom designed to the child."

One part of the new reading program developed by Behavioral Research Laboratories of New York stresses "non-graded, individualized learning to allow each child to progress at his own rate and level of development."

Dr. George Stern, president of Behavioral Research, said highly skilled teaching is the key to any successful reading program.

"The big thrust is training teachers," Stern said. "What we are doing is strengthening the system that now exists. Particularly, we know that the teachers will be more successful in meeting their (teaching) problems" after the training.

"None of us will accept the non-reader," Stern continued. "All children can read well — we expect that every child will be a successful reader."

The behavioral research program was described as a "linguistically structured approach" using "phonics rather than the 'look-say' method that has prevailed in most U.S. schools for the past 30 years."

"With admiration for your brave spirit and continued encouragement for your improvement and recovery." Wendy is a graduate of Highland High School despite the fact she has been plagued with the kidney ailment most of her young life. Since the removal of both of her kidneys in the most recent operation, Wendy must rely completely on the Fund, PO Box 6, Hyde Park, N. Y. 12538. The Wendy Brown Fund was started by Dale B. Harris to help defray the enormous medical expenses of the treatment and hospitalization periods. The recent surgery was necessary because the infected kidney machine had caused the kidney machine to carry away all the poison that was causing her blood pressure to rise and the operation was attempted in order to stabilize the blood pressure. It was discovered at that time that her appendix had ruptured sometime ago. It was noted that the condition did not adversely affect the teenager because the kidney machine had carried away all the poison that was causing her blood pressure to rise and the operation was attempted in order to stabilize the blood pressure. Teachers at 49 elementary schools in low income areas are armed (at a cost of $1 million in federal funds) with the latest in reading education materials private industry has developed. They are also able to call on top flight managerial skills from private industry for help in putting their new tools to use.

Dr. Alton Cowan, Orleans Parish (county) school superintendent, said a testing program in the schools showed many students reading at a level two to three years below normal for their age. Cowan said the new program was based on an analysis of the tests.

Although the new program involves many new reading materials, Cowan said the primary emphasis is not on hardware but on the individual. "Materials alone are not the answer," he said. "The program must be custom designed to the child."

One part of the new reading program developed by Behavioral Research Laboratories of New York stresses "non-graded, individualized learning to allow each child to progress at his own rate and level of development."

Dr. George Stern, president of Behavioral Research, said highly skilled teaching is the key to any successful reading program.

"The big thrust is training teachers," Stern said. "What we are doing is strengthening the system that now exists. Particularly, we know that the teachers will be more successful in meeting their (teaching) problems" after the training.

"None of us will accept the non-reader," Stern continued. "All children can read well — we expect that every child will be a successful reader."

The behavioral research program was described as a "linguistically structured approach" using "phonics rather than the 'look-say' method that has prevailed in most U.S. schools for the past 30 years."

Dunbar - Pike Nuptials Told

St. Peter's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Donna Dunbar, daughter of Mrs. Wesley Dunbar of 198 West Chestnut Street, Kingston, and the late Wesley Dunbar, and John Pike of Schenectady, son of Mrs. Warren Pike and the late Warren Pike, on Saturday, Oct. 17.

The Rev. Daniel Croston officiated at the double ring ceremony. Ann Goldrick, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of fall flowers decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Patrick A. Clausi, the bride selected a white satin gown, fashioned with an empire waistline accented with Venetian lace. The gown featured a detachable chapel length train. A Venetian lace crown held her illusion veil and she carried a nosegay of white pompons with white streamers. The bride's gown was made by Mrs. Dennis Cassell.

Mrs. Rosemarie Rundle of Sawkill Trailer Park was matron of honor for her sister in a gown, styled with an avocado green Georgette bodice over an olive green karate skirt. Ruffles of self-fabric edged the neckline and sleeves, and the waistline was encircled with floral braid. She wore a Camelot cap to match and carried a nosegay of yellow and bronze pompons with yellow streamers.

Miss Sandra Dougherty of Boston, Mass., cousin of the bride, was a bridesmaid. Her gown was identical in styling to that of the honor attendant's and she carried a nosegay of yellow pompons with yellow streamers.

Robert Rundle of Sawkill Trailer Park, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man. Anthony Clausi of Kingston, uncle of the bride, served as an usher.

A reception for 80 guests was held at the home of the bride.

For her wedding trip to Lake George and the Adirondack Mountains, the bride selected a burgundy pants suit with matching accessories and a white pompon corsage.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School is an employee of London's Youth Center, Kingston.

Her husband, an alumnus of Nott Terrace High School in Schenectady, served three years in the U.S. Army, stationed in Formosa, and is employed as manager by Morse Shoes, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Pike will reside in Kingston.

Weddings Announced to Daily Freeman

MRS. RAND W. FELTON
(Lakeside Studio)

Miss Eileen Joan Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Sullivan of 237 Broadway, Kingston, became the bride of Rand W. Felton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Felton of Lake Katrine, on Saturday, Oct. 31 at St. Mary's Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Edward J. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony. Theodore Riccobono, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Vases of yellow and white gladioli decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an off-white Colonial styled gown of silk faille, fashioned with fitted bodice and long sleeves. The gown was accented with antique lace and featured a full bustle skirt. A headpiece of white roses and yellow chrysanthemums trimmed with baby's breath held her full length veil and she carried a nosegay of white roses and yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Noreen Sullivan of Kingston was maid of honor for her sister in a floor length gown, styled with a velvet bodice with contrasting cummerbund. She carried a nosegay of rust chrysanthemums with a matching headband.

Attendants were Mrs. Michael (Linda) Tyler; Sharon Manillo; and Jean Felton, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns were identical in styling to that of the honor attendant's except the skirts were solid colors of green, gold and orange. They carried nosegays of varied colored chrysanthemums and wore matching headpieces.

Joseph Bonavita of Albany was best man. Ushers were Lester Felton and Kirk Felton, brothers of the bridegroom. Lake Katrine; and Kenneth Horn, Kingston. A reception for 100 guests was held at Flamingo Restaurant in Saugerties. For her wedding trip to Canada, the bride selected a floor length, hooded, rust-colored dress and dark and dark brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the Academy of St. Ursula and Ulster County Community College. She is employed in the office of Superintendent of Schools, George Washington School, Kingston.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School and UCCC, served three years in the U.S. Army, and is a sub-contractor for Telephone Company in Dutchess County. Mr. and Mrs. Felton will reside at Lake Katrine.

Miss Annette Zneimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Zneimer of Rhinebeck, became the bride of Steven Spiegel, Rexford, son of Mrs. Martin Spiegel of 44 Montrose Avenue, Kingston, on Saturday, Oct. 24. The wedding took place at Temple Beth-El, Poughkeepsie. Rabbi Erwin Zimet officiated, assisted by Cantor Joseph Wisselman.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an egg shell poie de soie gown styled with inserts of Chantilly lace. She wore a matching lace headpiece and carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Albert Spiegel of Hilltop Drive, Elmendorf Heights, Kingston, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor in a rust poie de soie gown. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Albert Spiegel of Kingston was best man for his brother. A reception was held in the Temple social hall.

The bride was graduated from Rhinebeck High School and Syracuse University where she was a member of Phi Sigma Pi and University Orchestra. She has been a special education teacher at Rhinebeck County School since 1965. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School and Albany College of Pharmacy of Union University, was a member of the school band. He is a partner of Park Pharmacy in Ballston Lake.

When they return from their wedding trip to Caracas, Venezuela, they will reside at 5 Hearshide Drive, Country Knolls, Ballston Lake.

DePuy - Sickler Wedding Announced

Miss Debra Jean DePuy, 17 Second Avenue, Kingston, daughter of Mrs. Roberta Jean DePuy, 17 Second Avenue, Kingston, and Donald F. DePuy Sr., Rosendale, became the bride of Joseph Harold Sickler Jr., 59 St. James Street, Kingston, son of Mrs. Irene Sickler, 274 Linderman Avenue, Kingston, and the late Joseph Sickler, on Saturday, Oct. 17, in Old Dutch Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool officiated at the double ring ceremony. Cindy Jones provided traditional wedding selections and arrangements of pink chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an empire, A-line gown of Peau de sole and re-embroidered lace encrusted with pearls. The gown featured a high, pearl-edged standing collar, tapered sleeves of lace and beaded lace motifs over the skirt and chapel train. She also wore a tulle petal cap, framed with tiers of French illusion veiling.

Miss Donna Murray, Third Avenue, Kingston, served as maid of honor. She wore a yellow Karate skimmer with a high collar, doubly edged with ruffled lace. Her short straight sleeves terminated in lace and her shoulder Watteau train was enclosed in lace. A matching pearl petal cap served as her headpiece and she carried a cascade of yellow pompons and chrysanthemums. Attendants were Mrs. Margaret Hendrickson, aunt of the bride, Kingston; and Mrs. Irene Hoffstatter, sister of the bridegroom, Kingston. Their mint green gowns and caps were styled identically to that of the honor attendant's and they carried cascades of yellow pompons and chrysanthemums.

Miss Doreen Faye DePuy, sister of the bride, Kingston, served as flower girl. She wore a similarly styled yellow gown and a miniature stylized cap, and carried a basket of yellow pompons and chrysanthemums.

Michael Sickler, Port Ewen, was best man for his brother. Ushers were Donald F. DePuy Jr., brother of the bride, Rosendale; and Gary Hoffstatter, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Kingston.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Ray's Village Inn, Rosendale.

The bride selected a pale blue A-Line coat and dress ensemble with navy blue accessories for her wedding trip to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Sickler attended Kingston High School and is employed by Port Ewen Products, Port Ewen. Her husband attended Pennsylvania Schools and is employed by Roland H. Myers Rug Cleaning, Port Ewen. The couple will make their home at 59 St. James Street, Kingston.

Winter Wedding Being Planned

A forthcoming winter wedding is being planned by Miss Jan Cummings of Ellenville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cummings of Cardiff Road, Schenectady, and Edward Michael Russett, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas G. Russett of Ellenville.

Miss Cummings, a graduate of Draper High School in Schenectady, received her B.S. degree from the State University of New York at Brockport and her M.S. degree in Exceptional Education from the State University in Buffalo. She also studied abroad at the University of Valencia in Spain. Miss Cummings is a member of Delta Psi Omega national honor society in dramatics and is active in Girl Scout work. She is a member of the faculty of Ellenville Central School.

Mr. Russett, a graduate of Ellenville High School, received his B.S. degree with honors from the State University of New York at New Paltz, and earned his M.A. degree in Educational Administration from Teachers' College, Columbia University. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi national honor society in education, Phi Delta Kappa national honorary fraternity in education, and Phi Eta Sigma social fraternity. He is a member of the faculty of Ellenville Central School.

Mr. Russett is a descendant of the Rev. Romanus Teller, a Dutch Reformed clergyman, and of Dr. Harris Kiersted, a physician and surgeon, in 17th century colonial New Amsterdam. He is also a descendant of Roelof Janis, whose grant of land was leased to Trinity Episcopal Church in Manhattan.

Joanne Schuh Weds J. J. Dickerson

MRS. JOHN J. DICKERSON
(Lakeside Studio)

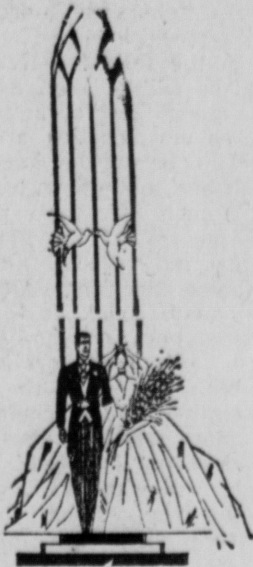

Miss Joanne Schuh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schuh, Route 213 Rifton, became the bride of Airman First Class John J. Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dickerson, 77 Clinton Avenue, Kingston, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 24, 4 p.m., St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

The Rev. Robert D. Saccoman, associate pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony, and celebrated a nuptial Mass. Miss Kathy Kelly, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Pedestal arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar and sprays of white chrysanthemums marked the pews. A bouquet of white carnations was presented to the Blessed Mother.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected an A-line gown of duchesse satin, fashioned with a high neckline and long full sleeves. The bodice, sleeves, and skirt featured appliques of three dimensional Venice lace. Her chapel length train was edged with lace and her full length veil, also banded with lace, was shirred to a stylized headpiece of silk flowers. She carried a circle cluster bouquet of white stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Susan J. Blakely, Kingston, was maid of honor in a gown of orchid crepe, fashioned with wedding ring neckline and long full sleeves. The bodice featured a vest of deep purple velvet edged with orchid braid. The divided skirt was floor length and she wore a camelot cap of matching velvet with tulle flirtation veil. She carried a fireside basket of orchid gladioli and purple chrysanthemums.

Serving as attendants were Mrs. Karen Leone, and Miss Patricia Dickerson, sisters of the bridegroom. Kingston; Mrs. Colleen Leone, Kingston; Miss Caroline DeOlde, Kingston; and Barbara Dickerson, Hurley. Miss Alycne Dewey, Poughkeepsie, served as junior bridesmaid. Their headpieces and gowns were styled exactly to that of the maid of honor's and they carried fireside baskets of purple chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Miss Sharon Stortini, Poughkeepsie, served as flower girl for her cousin. William Peter Fairley Jr., Kingston served as best man. Ushers were Dennis Leone, Michael Lawlor, Jeffrey Leone, Carmine Bertone, and Harold Lemister, all of Kingston. Richard Dickerson, also of Kingston, served as junior usher for his brother.

Chad Smith, Kingston, served as ringbearer. A candlelight reception for 260 guests was held at the Capri '400' Restaurant, Port Ewen.

For her wedding trip to Cove Haven, Poconos, Niagara Falls and Canada, the bride selected a white Edwardian styled coat, gray angora dress and gray suede accessories with a corsage of white stephanotis.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, is employed as a secretary with IBM, Kingston.

The bridegroom, an alumnus of Kingston High School, attended Ulster County Community College, and State University at Delhi, and is presently serving in the U.S. Air Force, Pease Air Force Base, N.H.

Women's Activities Planned

Rummage Sale

A rummage sale is being planned by the Ways and Means Department of the Woman's Club of Saugerties. Co-chairmen of the event, Mrs. Edward Jabs and Mrs. George Puram, have announced that the sale will be held on Friday, Nov. 20, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Republican Headquarters, Partition Street, Saugerties.

Donations of bric-a-brac, dishes, pots and pans, household articles, jewelry, children's clothing and toys, and other appropriate items will be gratefully accepted by Mrs. Jabs, Blue Mountain Park, or by Mrs. Puram, Willow Road in Barclay Heights. Deliveries may also be made at the Republican Headquarters on Thursday, Nov. 19, from 2 to 4 p.m. Any other arrangements regarding donation of rummage items may be made by contacting Mrs. Jabs.

Proceeds of the rummage sale will benefit the annual Children's Theater project as well as the Club-sponsored Ruth M. Gustin Memorial Scholarship.

DAR Group Enjoys Slides

Monday evening, Nov. 2, Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held its meeting at the Chapter House with Mrs. Clair S. Sheaffer presenting a color slide program, "Alaska, Our 49th State."

Mrs. George F. Dingee, regent, welcomed into membership Miss Barbara DuMond, daughter of Mrs. C. C. DuMond, Chapter registrar.

A Naturalization Court to be held December 2 at 11 a.m., Ulster County Court House, was announced by Mrs. Conrad Gross.

Members were reminded to bring toys to the December meeting for the Rehabilitation Center, Mrs. Charlotte A. Peck, director; and contributions were received by Mrs. Eugene Hoffman for the N.Y. State Educational Fund for Indian students. On display were the Christmas gifts of clothing, books and toys for the chapter's Tamassee School child, Linda Reynolds.

A book was presented to the Chapter library by Mrs. Floyd N. Ellsworth, dated April 1893 and edited by one of the National Society's Founders, Ellen Hardin Walworth, and containing the date of Wiltwyck Chapter's founding, October 4, 1892.

The bus tour to the University of Binghamton October 25, to view the paintings of John Vanderlyn was reported by Miss Inez Banks, noting that the Mmes. Howard Terwilliger, Mildred Blaine, George F. Dingee, Adam H. Porter, the Misses Virginia Curtis, Isabel Herdman, Mary Terwilliger attended.

Mrs. Porter announced that New York State was second in the Nation with 81,000 inches of Press, paying tribute to The Kingston Daily Freeman for its coverage. Super hostesses were Mmes. Albert P. Byrne, Mildred T. Blaine, C.C. DuMond, Claude G. Palen.

MR. AND MRS. GUSTAV SCHMIDT of West Park celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on October 17 with a dinner party given by their children at McGretick's Hall in Ghent. Married at St. Augustine's Church in Highland on October 14, 1920, they are the parents of Mrs. Beebe Mesick of Ghent and Gustav Schmidt Jr. of West Park. They also have three grandchildren, Cynthia, Cheri and Steven Schmidt. Approximately 70 relatives and friends attended the event from Millbrook, Poughkeepsie, Highland, West Park, Esopus, Ulster Park, Kingston, New Paltz, Milton, Ellenville, Ghent, Chatham, Ithaca, New York City New Jersey and Boston. After the dinner, music was provided by Joseph Skracki Orchestra. Mrs. Schmidt and his son are self-employed in the carpentry and building business. (Lees Studio).

Holiday Corner Ideas

MERRY CHRISTMAS TREE — Here is a Merry Christmas tree, made of bright bubbles of yarn. A whole rainbow of colors is used to crochet lots of little balls. The base is a six and one-half inch styrofoam cone, covered by a crocheted mesh. The balls and gold braid bows are sewn to the mesh. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Woman's Page Editor of The Daily Freeman along with your request for Leaflet PC 4473.

BRIGHT YARN BAUBLES — Make your Christmas tree a lovely memory of holidays past and present. Every year add several new ornaments to your collection of treasures. Here are two bright yarn baubles to crochet for 1970. One is a pyramid shape; the other is a pinwheel. Made of worsted yarn, they are soft and safe for families with young children and pets. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Woman's Page Editor of The Daily Freeman along with your request for leaflet PC 5387, A-B.

First Family Planning Thanksgiving Dinner at White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The first family will have the traditional Thanksgiving dinner in the White House again this year. But this time, the gathering will be on a more intimate scale.

Last year, President and Mrs. Nixon invited about 200 persons from homes for the elderly in the Washington area to join them at the White House for the holiday festivities. Nixon made a welcoming speech, and the guests had a great time.

"They did not want to make it a custom," explained an aide to the First Lady when asked whether there would be a repeat performance this year.

While the Nixons are keeping their options open, it's clear they enjoy keeping holiday traditions in the White House even though they are likely to depart immediately afterwards for Key Biscayne, Fla., or San Clemente, Calif., where they have resort homes.

The Nixon's Thanksgiving menu includes fresh fruit cup, roast stuffed turkey with giblet gravy, celery stuffing, candied sweet potatoes, tiny peas, blueberry muffins, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie — all prepared by White House Chef Henri Haller.

The President astounded guests last Thanksgiving by limiting his lunch to cottage cheese, eaten on a tray in his Oval Office.

In the afternoon the family flew to Florida for an evening dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

Women Protested Longer Hemlines 23 Years Ago

By SANDRA SISON
Roanoke Times Fashion Editor

ROANOKE, Va. — The last time hemlines dropped women did not take the fashion change sitting down, except for those who posed to give girl-watchers one more glance at exposed knees.

In the fall of 1947, just as in the fall of 1970, American designers lowered hemlines to three new lengths: about two inches below the knee, mid-calf and ankle long.

Women of that post-World War II generation organized nationally to protest against the long skirts with as much spunk as their 1970 contemporaries who campaign for "women's liberations."

With the end of the war on their heels, they could afford a more frivolous cause. They had been "liberated" whether they had wanted to be or not when they filled jobs left vacant when their men went to war.

Their national organization against long skirts was called the LBK club. LBK stood for Little Below the Knees, which was where most women had been wearing their skirts. Two inches below the knee was as far as they said their hemlines would fall.

The Roanoke chapter of LBK boasted about 500 members, including some from Bassett and Blue Ridge. All had signed petitions for national circulation, but on Sept. 6, 1947, they took more positive action.

Some 100 members marched in a parade in downtown Roanoke — complete with a float, a band, antique cars, a fire truck, the Roanoke life saving crew and horseback riders, recalls Aubrey Kessler, now manager of the Veterans Administration office in Roanoke. He drove a truck in the parade which carried the sign "The Broke Husbands," in protest against the new wardrobes they would have to buy for their wives.

Kessler remembers the demonstration as "strictly a one-day affair." The women in his office had signed the LBK petitions and, prior to the parade, nine of them had posed for photographers in front of the courthouse to show their knees, "a cheese-cake pose, like 'take the last look,'" Kessler chuckled.

An estimated 7,000 spectators lined Campbell Avenue and Jefferson Street to watch the LBK parade. The Roanoke Times account said. The club members marched in costumes ranging from 25-year old bathing suits, which designers also were trying to bring back into fashion, and 80-year-old dresses to new fall outfits, cropped to two inches below the knee to meet LBK regulations.

The float, "prepared" by a Roanoke apparel shop and a company of U.S. Marines, carried several women dressed in the new longer lengths and several in the preferred short lengths to demonstrate the contrast.

But their efforts failed. Fashion won out.

Skirts came down.

"Soon after the parade, women were coming in to buy strips of gabardine to sew on their suit skirts as a yoke or as a hem border to lengthen their hemlines," said Mrs. Lee Raney, proprietor of The Fabric Shop in downtown Roanoke. Gabardine suits were the fashion rage then, she explained.

Now her customers laugh at the longer hemlines featured in the new fall 1970 pattern books.

"They say they aren't going to use them," Mrs. Raney said, a knowing smile on her face.

Fall Concert

Kingston Maennerchor-Damenchor will hold its annual fall concert Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Walnut Grove, Field Court in Kingston. A dance will take place afterwards.

Julius Hochmuth, director of music, together with the music committee have arranged the program which will include selections by R. Pracht, Romberg, Winkler, Jessel, Giordant, Olias, among others.

Soloists will include Karl Heinz Frochlich and Erika Sanders. Special selections will be sung by Josephine Brencke, Mariann Hanneka and Helga Bruening, and Men's and Ladies Chorus. Ray Corey will be accompanist.

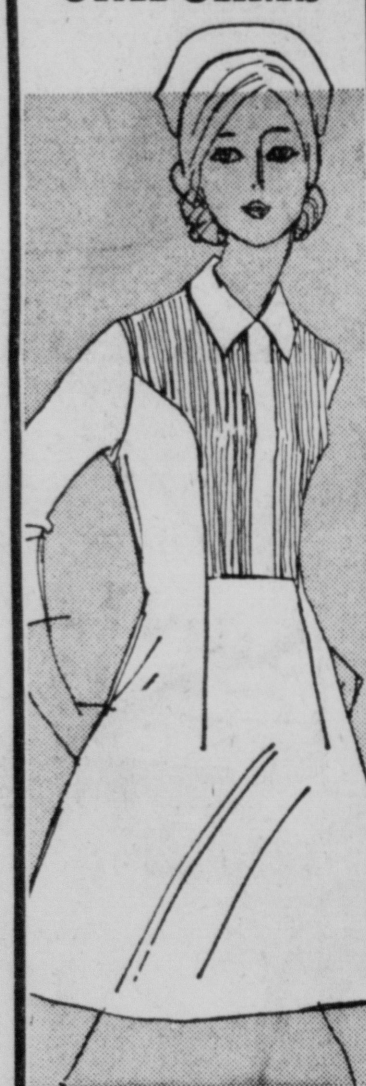

Music for dancing will be provided by Inge and his Continentals. Chairman of the event is Mrs. Carl Warneke. President of the society is Jahn Bruening.

Limited number of tickets will be available at the door.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I found as my children became teenagers that they did not want what they considered "juvenile" birthday cakes saying, "Happy Birthday to." So I began writing their nicknames in huge, long and thin letters over the entire cake. It really went over BIG with them.
Mrs. Jay Lentenberg

Whenever I need to take medicine I find that if I mix it with an ice cold drink, I can hardly taste it. It's a great way to get kids to take their medicine ... and you don't even have to tell them they're taking it!
Teresa Burnside

Every time I use terry cloth fabric or ready-made towels for curtains, I cut a strip of nylon net about three inches wide, fold it double, then sew it flat on the edge of the towel for the rod to go through. (Of course, for a wider rod, make a wider casing.) The nylon net keeps the seam from being bulky and makes the curtain easier to push back.

Highland High Poised for the Giant Step

By MORT LAFFIN

KINGSTON
Lem Atkins had just finished giving an on-the-spot interview to members of the news media and anyone else within ear-shot. He was walking down to the Highland locker room, visibly upset over his team's loss to Rondout, 19-14, in the Ulster County Athletic League opener. "You can say we lost to a better team," he said. "They were better than us today. We'll just have to hang on and hope we don't lose anymore ground." Then he turned away and headed down the slope to the showers where his team awaited him. Halfway down the hill, he was stopped by a father of one of the players who said: "Don't worry Lem, you're better than they are. They won't last the season. Somebody will knock them off. But, nobody's gonna dump us again." Atkins just doffed his baseball cap and smiled. "Thanks," he said. "I do hope you are right." That was six weeks ago. And now, it appears that a proud father's wish, a coach's dream and a team's desire have all but paid off. For three weeks after that opening loss to the Ganders, both Highland and Rondout ran through opponents like warm honey through a tin horn. And, it appeared that no one was going to gain any ground against the Ganders. But, the UCL is funny like that. Teams in this league are so evenly balanced that it's possible for a team to win with a 2-0-5 record. Two weeks ago, the honey began to solidify out at Stone Ridge as the Redskins of Liberty battled the Ganders to a 6-6 tie. In that game Rondout lost star halfback Mike Alecca to a broken bone in his ankle. They also played without the services of George Wallack, premier quarterback who bruised a hip. Consequently some of the tarnish came off the Gander horn. The Highlanders, under the baton of Atkins, featuring Perry Monroe on lead trumpet, were still making beautiful music in the standings and had defeated a tough New Paltz team, 14-6.

The scene changed last week as did the script. A small rewrite was in order and the job was given to Huguenot Director John Ford (no relation to his movie namesake) and his chief writer, Bill Schiller. Ford, Schiller and Paltz defeated the Ganders 20-8, executing their part of the contract. On the other hand, Highland kept the other part of the story in line, drubbing Ontario, 44-0, again with Perry Monroe playing the lead role of the hero.

Scene Five, the seventh take of the UCL success story, will be recorded this Saturday as Ontario travels to Rondout and Marlboro ventures into Highland territory. Indian Coach Larry Karas and Duke Mentor Jerry Trezza are in charge of this week's re-writes, if there are any that occur. You can get even money that both Atkins and Rondout Coach John "Mickey" Million are looking for a happy ending. It will be happy for one of them all right. And, the feeling here is that Highland will slip the foot into the glass slipper and the walk down the hill won't be so lonesome for Atkins. In other action: Wallkill travels to Pine Bush. New Paltz is at Liberty. Ellenville at Red Hook and Beacon at Saugerties. New Paltz still has an outside chance to tie Highland for the crown if they win and both the Highlander and the Ganders take the pipe. Ford might just recommend a re-writing for both clubs. All games start at 1:30 p.m.

THE PRINCIPALS — Cassius Clay (L) will meet Argentine Oscar Bonavena (R) in Madison Square Garden, Dec. 7, as the deposed champion's second step towards regaining the heavyweight title. Clay's last fight in the Garden was on March 22, 1967, and only a few months after that fight he was stripped of his title and banned from boxing. Bonavena is ranked as a number one contender behind Joe Frazier, who succeeded Clay as the recognized champ. (UPI FILES).

Ali-Bonavena Set for Dec. 7

NEW YORK (AP) — There's big doings in boxing today. Madison Square Garden is hosting a press conference, with all the fixings, at which formal announcement is expected to be made that Muhammad Ali and Oscar Bonavena will meet in a 15-round heavyweight bout at the Garden on Monday night, Dec. 7.

Harry Markson, director of boxing at the Garden, did not specify the principals or the date in announcing the press conference. The Associated Press learned that the occasion was to be the setting for the formal signing for the fight by Ali also known as Cassius Clay, and by the South American soccer from Buenos Aires. Bonavena was scheduled to leave Buenos Aires Wednesday but his departure was delayed until today because his mother-in-law underwent an operation. Thus Bonavena is not expected to be at the press conference which Markson said would go on as scheduled. "Ali will be there and Bonavena's manager," Markson said, pointing out that under New York rules a manager can sign a contract for his fighter.

Markson, a veteran in the sport, said "I never said the fight would be on Dec. 7." He added: "I have learned not to announce anything until the contracts are signed." "I'm going to beat Clay," Bonavena said in Buenos Aires Wednesday night. "I'm not going to repeat Quarry's mistakes. I intend to attack and hit hard. Clay had better take care heavy king of the world."

to avoid my punches if he doesn't want to be beaten by a knockout." He referred to Clay's three round TKO over Jerry Quarry in Atlanta on Oct. 26 in the first bout for the former heavy champion in 3½ years. The Bonavena fight would be Ali's second on the road he hopes will lead to a title bout with Joe Frazier, the current champion.

Foster Is Making Big Talk

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Bob Foster has muscled up from a light heavyweight and says he'll "knock Joe Frazier's block off" to kill the highly-sought battle between the heavyweight king and Muhammad Ali.

"I've got the power to knock out Frazier and I'll do it," boasted Foster in a telephone interview from his Tampa camp. "Even at 174, I knew I could land some jabs—a lot of jabs—on his face. Now they'll be felt more. I'll kyo him."

"Remember, I was the last guy to beat Cassius Clay," reminded Foster. "I beat him as an amateur in 1959 at Chicago." If he, indeed, does box Frazier's ears, would Foster then want another shot at Ali a dozen years later?

"Oh, sure," said Foster, "That's where the big money is, fighting that guy. And I'd beat him, too. I ain't never thought he was no fighter—before he was suspended or now."

Foster is 31 and admitted he may be finished as a light heavyweight, despite owning the title. "The money's in the heavy division," he said. "You make a living, that's all, as a lightweight. The big bread is with the big boys."

Daugherty-Agase Rate Notre Dame Over the Buckeyes

CHICAGO (AP) — Which is the better team — Notre Dame or Ohio State or possibly Michigan?

The Ohio State-Michigan argument will be resolved Nov. 21 when the two teams meet. But what about second-ranked Notre Dame and third-ranked Ohio State? They don't play, but a couple of coaches who took their lumps from both teams shed some light on the matter. Northwestern's Alex Agase, who opened the season by losing to Notre Dame 35-14 and last week lost to Ohio State 24-10, flatly says, "On the days we played them, Notre Dame was the better team and Joe Theismann was a more effective quarterback than Rex Kern."

Agase's thinking apparently has been reflected in The Associated Press poll which has seen Ohio State slip from No. 1 to No. 3 behind Texas and Notre Dame in two weeks despite the fact the Buckeyes have remained undefeated.

Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State apparently also leans towards Notre Dame although his Spartans lost to both powers by identical 29-0 scores. "Ohio State is more explosive on offense," Daugherty told the Chicago football writers via a telephone hookup Tuesday. "Notre Dame is stronger defensively, has more consistent quarterbacking in combining the running and passing games."

Daugherty's Spartans also lost to fifth-ranked Michigan, 34-20, and he said of the Wolverines: "Michigan defensively is equal to or better than both teams and its quarterback, Don Moorhead, is great on third down plays against Wisconsin and he did the same thing against us."

"A quarterback of this stature inspires a team," added Daugherty. "And he also gets you on the scoreboard."

Ara Parseghian, who makes no bones about the fact that Notre Dame's main objective is to win the national championship and to do so, a team has to finish No. 1, had an explanation for Ohio State's slide from first to third.

"Pollsters are influenced by the method of winning," said Ara. "Polls at best are guesswork which distinguish teams which are winning."

"There is small, if any, difference between teams ranked No. 1 or No. 2 or even No. 9 or No. 10 for that matter." Parseghian agreed that the possibility is strong for a rematch of top-ranked Texas and Notre Dame in a postseason clash.

"So many things can happen," cautioned Parseghian. "It is conceivable the two teams could again meet in the Cotton Bowl."

It is conceivable Notre Dame might go to another bowl and it is conceivable that Notre Dame will not go to any bowl."

New York State had re-okayed Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, to box again.

Foster has been building his spidery body for a shot at the bigger loot of the heavyweight division. The Washington, D.C. native won his last bout against Houston's Mark Tesson at 174 pounds in June and has since added 19 pounds.

Brown managed only 53 yards against Denver, enough to retain his lead over Lane, 596 to 591, after Lane got only 60 yards against Houston. Anderson now has 485.

Brown has averaged 4.8 yards a carry, Lane 5.4 and Anderson 4.6. John Brodie of San Francisco snaring three for a total of 31 Tom McCauley of Atlanta while Gordon managed only one tained his punt return lead with a 16.4 yard average. Cecil Tur-Fred Cox of Minnesota added ner of Chicago, after a 94 yard three field goals and three extra return last Sunday, easily kept points to his scoring lead and his kickoff return lead with a 37.6 average.

Bobby Joe Green of Chicago lost his punting lead to Mike Bragg of Washington, who is averaging 43.5 yards per kick, but interception lead with five.

Big Ls Have It In AFC Stats

NEW YORK (AP) — Daryle Lamonica, Floyd Little, Chuck Hinton and Jan Stenerud retained their leads in the four top statistical categories this week in the American Conference of the National Football League.

Lamonica of Oakland again topped the quarterbacks after hitting 13 of 28 passes for 125 yards and two touchdowns in a 17-17 deadlock against Kansas City. He was followed again by Bill Nelsen of Cleveland and rookie Dennis Shaw of Buffalo.

Little of Denver carried 15 times for 65 yards in a 19-3 loss to Washington, enough to keep him in the rushing lead with 558 yards on 123 carries, a 4.5 average. Hewitt Dixon of Oakland was second and O. J. Simpson of Buffalo jumped from sixth to third after a 123-yard day. Hinton of Baltimore caught only one pass last week and had to share his pass receiving lead with rookie Ray Chester of Oakland with 30 catches after Chester hauled in six.

Stenerud of Kansas City, kicking a field goal and two extra points, raised his leading scoring total to 60 points.

Paul Marth of Denver, W.K. Hicks of the New York Jets, Jerry Logan of Baltimore and Johnny Robinson of Kansas City remained tied for the interception lead with four each, while Ed Podolak of Kansas City kept his punt return lead with a 15.6 yard average per return.

Speedy Duncan of Baltimore took the kickoff return lead from Mel Blount of Pittsburgh with a 39.9 yard average on the strength of his 99-yarder last Sunday. Gerald Wilson of Kansas City held on to his punting lead with a 46.6 yard average per kick.

Low Dunks 53 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lew Alcindor seems to have shifted into high gear as the Milwaukee Bucks begin to pick up speed in their chase after Detroit, but the Pistons don't seem to be slowing down.

The Pistons, the surprise club of the National Basketball Association, beat the Atlanta Hawks in Atlanta 117-105 Wednesday night for their 11th victory in 12 starts this season.

The Pistons, picked to finish far behind the Bucks in the Midwest Division, thus held onto their lead, although Alcindor poured in 53 points to lead the Bucks past the bedraggled Cleveland Cavaliers 110-108 in Cleveland.

The Cavaliers are now 0-12, three defeats shy of the NBA record for consecutive losses at the start of a season and six short of the record for any time.

In other games, Seattle added to the woes of Buffalo, another expansion team, beating the New York Knicks 126-101; Boston nipped Philadelphia 115-113; visiting Phoenix outshot Cincinnati 133-115 and on the West Coast, the New York Knicks trimmed San Diego 109-100 and San Francisco turned back Baltimore 111-100.

In the American Basketball Association, Utah stopped Indiana 102-99, Kentucky crushed Carolina 127-105, and Memphis held off the Floridians 112-106.

The hero for Detroit this time was reserve guard Howard Komives, who hit three baskets in a row at the start of the fourth period to turn an 83-81 lead into an eight-point spread, leaving the Hawks behind to stay.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 25 points, and Lou Hudson had 21 for Atlanta, the Central Division favorite now saddled with a 2-6 record.

Cleveland took a 62-51 lead at halftime despite Alcindor's 35 points. However, the Bucks, now 6-1, pulled ahead 101-96 with four minutes left. The Cavaliers got within 106-104 and then 110-108, but John Johnson missed a final shot and Alcindor grabbed the rebound with 11 seconds to go.

Seattle shot into a 23-5 lead and Buffalo never got closer than 13 again as the Braves lost their seventh straight for a 1-8 mark. Tom Merschery had 22 points for the SuperSonics and Don May 23 for Buffalo.

John Javlicek, who totaled 37 points, and rookie Dave Cowens scored seven straight points in the final minute, 34 seconds to lift Boston from a one point deficit to its third straight victory.

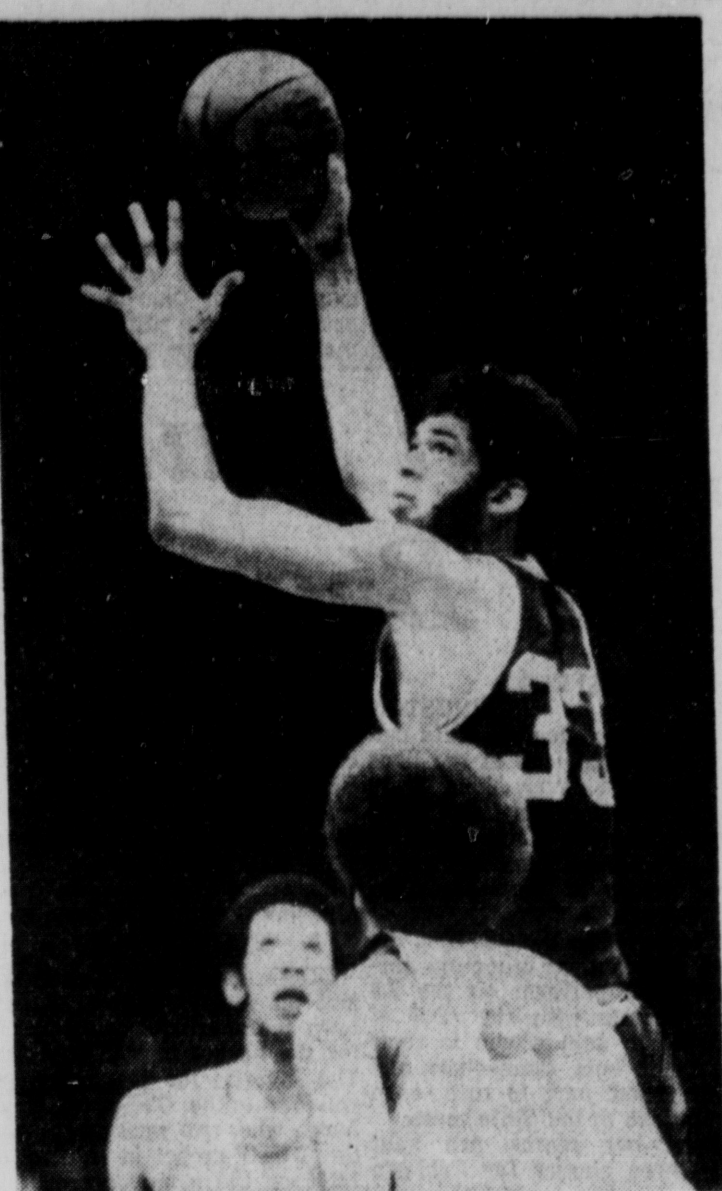

Clem Haskins, Dick Van Arsdale and Connie Hawkins each scored 25 points as Phoenix took a 15-point lead in the first quarter and sailed in.

Walt Frazier powered New York's 11th victory in 13 games host Braves 126-101; Boston nipped Philadelphia 115-113; visiting Phoenix outshot Cincinnati 133-115 and on the West Coast, the New York Knicks trimmed San Diego 109-100 and San Francisco turned back Baltimore 111-100.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 25 points, and Lou Hudson had 21 for Atlanta, the Central Division favorite now saddled with a 2-6 record.

JUST TWO OF 53 — Lew Alcindor goes high over Cavs' John Johnson and Walt Wesley (back to camera) as he goes for a basket. He scored 53 points as the Bucks edged the Cavaliers, 110-108. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Redmonds Live It Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mickey Redmond didn't like the way his kid brother was roughing him up—so he man-handled little Dickie and the rest of Minnesota's North Stars.

The fiery defenseman for the Montreal Canadiens assisted on two tallies, tangled with his frere, then stormed out of the sin bin after the ensuing penalty and slapped in a blue line shot to lift the Canadiens to a 4-3 National Hockey League triumph Wednesday night.

In other NHL action, Pittsburgh overwhelmed Vancouver 8-3, Chicago rallied to defeat Detroit 4-2, California beat New York 3-1 and Los Angeles edged Toronto 3-2.

Montreal built up a 3-0 lead with Guy Lapointe and former North Star Claude Larose hammering in a pair of first-period goals and Jean Beliveau connecting in the second.

Minnesota cut the margin to 3-1 on the first of two scores by Danny Grant in the third period. Then, with about five minutes gone in the session the Redmonds checked each other hard into the boards and came out swinging.

Two minutes after their penalties expired Mickey whacked home the clinching goal. J. P. Parise was Minnesota's other scorer.

The expansion Canucks stayed close to Pittsburgh through two periods, but the Penguins, led by two-goal performances by Glen Sather and Ken Schinkel, wrapped it up with a four-goal outburst in the final period.

Duane Rupp notched four assists for Pittsburgh while Vancouver got goals from Dale Talon, Pat Quinn and Ray Cullen.

Chicago, opening a three-point lead over idle Philadelphia atop the West Division, watched Detroit build up a 2-0 lead on goals by Jim Shires and Gordie Howe.

Then the Black Hawks raced back, deadlocking it on scores by Brian Campbell and Doug Jarrett in a two-minute stretch of the middle session, then beating the Red Wings on tallies by Gerry Pinder and Campbell in the third.

California, in recording only its second victory in 11 outings, built a 3-0 lead against New York and prevented the Rangers from moving into sole possession of first place in the East Division.

Gary Jarrett, Dennis Hextall and Gary Croteau scored for the Golden Seals while Jack Eggers spoiled goalie Gary Smith's shutout bid early in the third period.

Bob Pulford, formerly of Toronto, turned on his old mates and scored a pair of goals in Los Angeles' conquest of the Maple Leafs. Doug Robinson's goal with three minutes to go enabled the Kings to come from behind. Garry Monahan and Dave Keon tallied for the Leafs.

Montreal built up a 3-0 lead with Guy Lapointe and former North Star Claude Larose hammering in a pair of first-period goals and Jean Beliveau connecting in the second.

Minnesota cut the margin to 3-1 on the first of two scores by Danny Grant in the third period. Then, with about five minutes gone in the session the Redmonds checked each other hard into the boards and came out swinging.

Two minutes after their penalties expired Mickey whacked home the clinching goal. J. P. Parise was Minnesota's other scorer.

The expansion Canucks stayed close to Pittsburgh through two periods, but the Penguins, led by two-goal performances by Glen Sather and Ken Schinkel, wrapped it up with a four-goal outburst in the final period.

Duane Rupp notched four assists for Pittsburgh while Vancouver got goals from Dale Talon, Pat Quinn and Ray Cullen.

Chicago, opening a three-point lead over idle Philadelphia atop the West Division, watched Detroit build up a 2-0 lead on goals by Jim Shires and Gordie Howe.

Then the Black Hawks raced back, deadlocking it on scores by Brian Campbell and Doug Jarrett in a two-minute stretch of the middle session, then beating the Red Wings on tallies by Gerry Pinder and Campbell in the third.

Flood Salary — 110 Gs

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Curt Flood's contract with the Washington Senators is a conditional pact that still requires the approval of attorneys involved in his suit against baseball. The Associated Press learned today.

At the same time, it also was learned that the contract calls for a salary of $110,000 for the 1971 season, $20,000 more than his last active season with the St. Louis Cardinals.

In announcing Flood's signing, the Senators implied that all outstanding issues had been resolved. But a source close to the controversial outfielder, who still has a $4.1 million antitrust suit pending against baseball, disputed that.

According to the source, "the contract is conditional because of a special covenant which says attorneys on both sides must agree on the wording of a stipulation that the signing is without prejudice to the law suit."

The Senators said Flood has signed the standard player's contract containing the reserve clause that binds a player to the club which signs him until he is either traded, sold or released, and that Commissioner Bowie Kuhn had approved.

"The legal aspects were worked out with the help of Arthur Goldberg, Flood's attorney," the club said.

"Mr. Goldberg has not seen the contract," the source explained. "All that he has seen is a special covenant which simply states that the entire contract is conditional on the attorneys for both sides agreeing on the language with respect to the fact that the contract-signing would not prejudice the law suit."

The wording is considered extremely important because Flood has signed a contract that contains the same reserve clause that he is challenging in court. He sat out the 1970 season while his case was heard in Federal Court in New York.

The Federal Court ruled against Flood in the first phase of the case and an appeal now is pending. It is expected that there will be no final determination until the issue is set before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The $110,000 contract would make Flood the third member of the Senators to be paid in excess of $100,000 a year.

According to the Senators, Flood signed the contract in New York Tuesday night after Kuhn cleared the way by approving a trade with Philadelphia that sent utility outfielder Greg Goossen and minor leaguers Gene Martin and Jeff Terpko to Philadelphia.

The Phillies, who originally acquired Flood from St. Louis in the Richie Allen trade, had given the Senators permission to negotiate with Flood with the provision a trade would be concluded in compensation if Washington could get him to sign.

Momma Mia! That's Some Spicy Food Bill

WHAT'S FOR DESSERT? — Evidently Mrs. Ralph McCumber, RN, mother of KHS pigskin powerhouse John McCumber, has decided it's more practical to board her son out than feed him at home. Here John keeps the chef at Governor Clinton Hotel stepping lively replenishing platters. After all, even at 200-pounds-plus Big John is still just a growing boy. (Freeman photo by Haines).

Detroit U. Cagers Are Out on Strike

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

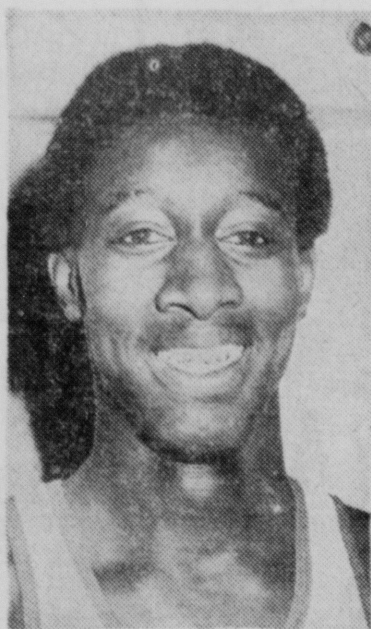

KINGSTON
Remember Jerry Moss, the all-time Ulster County Community College basketball great who entered Detroit University after his fabulous career at UCCC? Of course, you do. What basketball buff will ever forget him.

It now develops that he may have walked into a messy situation at the Motor City.

Today, the UPI reports that Detroit U may have to ask student volunteers to play varsity basketball for the Titans this season.

The entire basketball team has boycotted practice all week after controversial Coach Jim Harding suspended two players. The 18-man varsity met with Dr. Malcolm Carron, president of the university Wednesday, but he told them to straighten their differences out with Harding.

"We have two alternatives,"

JERRY MOSS

Harding said, "We may have to forget our schedule completely—and that's a distinct possibility—or we may issue a call for students to come out and play for the school."

Carron said the meeting with the athletes "was quite open and reasonable. We discussed the players' grievances and the possibilities of resolving them."

"I reminded the team of the seriousness of their stand, the implications for themselves and the university, and I requested that they go to Harding immediately in an effort to straighten out their problems. I hope they will do so."

The players would not comment on their grievances following the hour-long session. They did not say whether they would meet Harding Thursday.

The boycott began after Harding suspended both Daniel Agee for failure to report an injury properly and seven-foot center Gerald Smith for throwing a "temper tantrum" in last Saturday's practice.

"I imagine that tomorrow (Thursday) will be a very important one at our school," Dr. Carron said.

By JOAN L. WOJNOSKI

Everyone knows little girls are made of sugar 'n' spice and everything nice. But of what are tough, hard-nosed football stars constructed. A telephone survey to mothers of Kingston High School's Fighting Maroons answered a bit of the riddle as to care and feeding of those husky gridders.

While most moms agreed their sons have colossal appetites, they also concurred the boys are not "fancy" eaters. And there is no doubt as to which foods rank first on the favorite lists . . . steak and potatoes, "mountains of them with plenty of gravy." Obviously, those big boys have no weight problem. There's no fat; it's all well proportioned muscle.

Mrs. Donald McGowan, mother of top receiver, Kevin McGowan, admits Kevin "loves roast beef and green beans." With Glen Maisch, starting guard, it's spaghetti and meatballs. However, where meals are concerned, Glen is not hard to please, claims Mrs. Maisch. Not one to pamper himself with ice packs or hot pads to soothe injured limbs, he wouldn't even resort to stitches for a bad chin cut recently until the family took his sister to hospital for an injured finger. Then Glenn agreed to trade his "butterfly stitch" for sutures. Glen's mother who is secretary of Football Booster Association says that she has no food problem at home but she does have one pet peeve. It's dirty clothes. She threatens to instigate an award system for boys who give their mothers their dirty clothes on a day-to-day basis instead of all at once.

As for Dave Kwasnowski, starting safety position, his mother prepares a daily breakfast of sausage and eggs, hot oatmeal or French toast and juice. Dave's dad who is interested in health foods sees to it the family has its daily ration of wheat germ and honey candy for energy. Dave buys his lunch at school but dinner always means salad, vegetables, meat, skimmed milk and fruit. Potatoes are on weekend basis only and desserts "on occasion." Of course, there's no butter; cholesterol, you know.

While most boys seem to be weathering the storm of KHS defeats with even temperament and learning to live with it, one mother said her son lies on the couch and stares at the ceiling endlessly following a football fiasco. And on the eve of a game, he is frustrated, very nervous and does a lot of walking. He'll have to eat more celery for his nerves.

Mrs. James Attenweiler claims her son Bill, senior captain and starting guard, always downs a quart of Gatoraid after each practice session. Bill is such a football buff, he even shines his football shoes every Friday night.

While weight doesn't seem to be a problem with the players, a big bug-a-boo, evidently, is avoiding disaster. Rugged blocker Don Lackaye just recovered from an elbow injury, then dislocated his shoulder. Another walking-wounded Maroon is Bud Atkins who played defensive end before breaking his foot in scrimmage. Bud likes just about everything that's good to eat, although hamburgers, hot dogs, pies and cakes rank highest on his list of preferred foods.

Starting defensive end Charlie Kaune puts away vast quantities of food according to Mrs. Kaune. An average breakfast includes juice, cereal (served in soup bowl). A typical lunch is tomato juice, sandwiches of baloney, lettuce and mayonnaise PLUS one slice of bread. And he especially relishes spaghetti and tossed salad. Charlie is anticipating Kingston's first victory so the team can participate in traditional soaking of the coach in the shower. As this is coach Tony Badalato's first year as varsity mentor, the team seems to be extra anxious.

Local Stars Ready For Bear Mt. Test

By IRA FUSFELD

KINGSTON
Area cross country buffs can get their final look at the likes of George Shurtler, John Stay, Kevin O'Shea, John Cabell, and Aaron Randall when the Section Nine championship meet is held Friday at Bear Mountain State Park.

The aforementioned five, as well as countless other top harriers, will perform on the 2.5 mile course with the goal of helping to gain a win in their class for both themselves and their school and, in turn, earn invitations to the State meet.

Thirty-two teams are split into three classes for Friday's run. Participating in the "A" division are Kingston, Newburgh, Clarkstown, Spring Valley, Middletown, North Rockland, Tappan Zee, Valley Central, Ramapo, Pearl River, and Suffern. The "B" class will consist of Oneonta, Nyack, Washingtonville, Port Jervis, Monroe-Woodbury, Highland Falls, Monticello, Nanuet, and Rondout Valley.

In class "C-D" are Pine Bush, Liberty, Highland Falls, New Paltz, Marlboro, Wallkill, Ellenville, Tri-Valley, Highland, Minisink Valley, and Roscoe.

Middies Favored
DUSO champion Middletown and an always strong Clarkstown team are expected to vie for the honors in "A" division. The favorite for the individual win has to be O'Shea of Newburgh who, two weeks ago, won the DUSO crown in a time of 13:00 on the same course.

Kingston, despite a strong finish in dual meets which gave them a winning record, probably won't dent the domination of the leading schools, but Ron Gabriele's squad has in Cabell a possible high individual finisher.

The local super soph came in ninth when he traveled the Bear Mountain route for the first time and the experience he gained should help him improve on his 14:08 ledger.

"I'll be realistic and say our team's chances are not high," said Gabriele, "but this is a good opportunity to give the Young Lions some experience on this course and we are shooting for an individual honor."

The seven members of the winning team plus the top seven outside of that team in each class will be invited to the State meet to be held Nov. 14 at Croton.

UCAL Champs
UCAL champion Oneonta will be one of the stronger aggregations in class "B." The Indians

Stacy, Tim Schussler, and Lonnie Van Wagner will be among those trying to make it a clean sweep this year for Coach Bernie Stahl.

Rondout will be tough as usual if only because of their premier runner Randall. Shurtler of Pine Bush is a good bet to win the "C-D" portion of the event, especially after his first place finish in the UCAL.

Meet Director Stan Hemingway of Newburgh says that the "C-D" race will kick things off at 3 p.m. The starter for all the classes will be former Kingston coach G. Warren Kias.

After these few brief chats with the mothers of KHS sports, a couple of things seem certain. If one is what he EATS, there's absolutely no truth to the old nursery rhyme about "puppy dog tails and etcetera," and secondly, there's no doubt about it, football is a dangerous pastime.

State U. Harriers Score Sixth Win of Season

FAIRFIELD, CONN.
New Paltz State's harriers completed a solid dual meet season here Wednesday with a 20-36 triumph over Fairfield College.

Junior Paul "Nipsey" Spadaro was first home in a time of 27:44. Rodriguez notched 2nd place in 28:23 while Schook was 25 seconds behind was 28:50.

Three Fairfield runners, led by Fred Horton, filled up the next positions. Horton's time was 28:50.

"It was a close race for about three miles," said winning coach Ed Bell, who added that the runners could have "held hands" during that stretch.

The Hawks completed the schedule with a 6-3 mark ("We did a good job," Bell remarked). On Saturday they travel to Van Cortland Park in the Bronx to compete in the NAIA Regional Meet.

The results:

Lamoureux Has 246 Third High

KINGSTON
A new name was added to the big board of area bowling as Betty Lamoureux tallied a 246 single enroute to a 556 triple in the IBM Home Engineers League.

The solo put Lamoureux into a third place tie with Charlotte Houtman for 1970-71.

Gilda Bach's 258 remains the high single following by Kathy Spadafora's 253.

In other IBM action, Charlotte Elander hurried a 506 series. The Alley Cats took team solo honors with a 669 while the Split Ends' 1858 was high triple.

TED HUMPHREY outdid the competition in the Tavern League with 232-606.

SAM WILSON blasted a 213-579 Pioneer Mixed play. Top female kegler was Mary Leskody with 181-492.

Lamoureux' ARCO tallied the team pace setting 2343.

Reveal Corruption At Thailand Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigators have confirmed that GI's diverted drugs and goods into Thailand's black market as well as doctoring pay records and promotions, a House committee says.

According to the House military operations subcommittee, the investigators found the illegal activities occurred in Bangkok and at two U.S. bases in Thailand.

The inquiry was prompted by two Army enlisted men who told the Associated Press and the subcommittee they had been involved in thefts and illicit pay record changes before leaving Thailand a year ago.

"You could sell anything you wanted to," said one soldier. He stated he made about $500 a day over a three month period by diverting medical supplies into the Thai black market.

He said shipments of drugs and other medical items intended for service hospitals were diverted to the black market by falsifying shipping records.

The second soldier said clerks in a finance detachment had devised a scheme under which they paid soldiers advances on their paychecks without noting the transactions in the official records. The men receiving the advances then split part of their advance pay with the clerks, the soldier said.

Although the Army investigators confirmed such happenings, the committee said, the people amount of money have not been determined.

The subcommittee quoted the Army as saying the partial pay operation involved a "small ring" of enlisted men at a finance detachment at the Korat Air Base.

The subcommittee also re truckloads of Post Exchange merchandise were diverted into the black market, usually by Thai drivers, sometimes but not always with the cooperation of GIs.

The Army also reported some promotions were falsified in Thailand so the soldier involved could collect "money owed" at the higher pay grade when he returned to the United States, the subcommittee said.

The Army keeps central promotion records, the subcommittee said, but promotions to corporal and buck sergeant can be arranged within a battalion where false promotion orders can be mimeographed.

The subcommittee inquiry into the Thailand thefts at Bangkok, Korat and port installations at Sattahip is part of its investigation of military supply depot procedures against theft and pilferage in the United States as well as abroad.

The panel said the Army reports it has tightened its control over medical and Post Exchange shipments in Thailand, but said it is concerned about the payroll laxities "which permitted or invited" the partial pay scheme.

Overseas Media Views Election as Standoff

LONDON (AP) — Some European newspaper commentators today viewed the outcome of the U.S. election as a standoff for the Republicans and the Democrats. Others considered it a setback for President Nixon.

"The contest ended a draw, as the pollsters predicted," said Paris' conservative Le Figaro. "America, face to face with its terrible problems, didn't really make a move."

"If, as President Nixon maintains, there really is a silent majority backing up his position, ... it still has not seized the occasion to express itself clearly."

Rome's Il Popolo, the organ of the ruling Christian Democrats, also found the results inconclusive. It said the election "justifies neither the Republican claims of victory in defeating antiadministration senators, nor the Democrats' hopes that American voters have repudiated the 'politics of fear.'"

Sweden's conservative Svenska Dagbladet and liberal Dagens Nyheter, both called the outcome a defeat for the President.

Svenska Dagbladet said it was the worst campaign in U.S. history and that "the gigantic problems in the country were not mentioned—only law and order." Dagens Nyheter said the President had suffered both a moral and a political defeat and the Democrats had improved their chances for 1972.

Denmark's conservative Berlingske Tidende commented: "Mr. Nixon wanted to mobilize the silent majority by stressing the nationwide problems of law and order. He did not succeed. The majority kept quiet by staying at home."

L'Unita, published by the Italian Communist party, headlined its story "Grave Defeat for Nixon."

One winner, according to the conservative London Daily Mail, was American democracy.

"Despite all the talk of crazy swings and vicious tactics," it said, "the American voter has kept his feet on the ground and his eyes on the candidates themselves."

"When in doubt, go for the better man. On the whole, American voters have favored men of talent and energy, whatever their political labels."

Britain's liberal Guardian took a similar view: "America, by and large, has opted for the most energetic candidates and the men in the ideological middle. Liberal fears of a rampaging right-wing epidemic are groundless, just as generalizations about American moral sickness can be vastly overstated."

The conservative Daily Telegraph took a swipe at Sen. Edward S. Muskie, D-Maine, asserting that the Democrats "appear almost totally lacking at the moment in leadership of the kind which a great party deserves."

"With so much at stake in America itself, it is not enough to look and sound like a 'nice guy,' which, for those who saw him on British television, must have been about all that Sen. Muskie appeared to be."

Penn Central Lists $233.6 Million Loss

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (UPI)—The Penn Central Railroad, currently in reorganization under the bankruptcy act, reported a net income loss of $233.6 million for the first nine months of 1970.

The figure was compared with a net income loss over the same period last year of $49.03 million, in a report issued Wednesday.

At the same time, the Penn Central Co., a holding company whose prime investment is the giant railroad, reported a net loss for the third quarter of $70.3 million, or $2.92 per share.

The holding company, which no longer controls the railroad or its investments, said it had included losses sustained by the railroad as a measure of its losses.

The railroad's report was filed in U. S. District Court here and with the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington by the four trustees for the faltering railroad.

They said the total current assets of the railroad were $506.4 million and total current liabilities were $649.03 million.

Losses to the railroad during the first nine months of the year were reported despite an increase in the railroad's operating revenues of $55.1 million over a comparable period in 1969.

The trustees' report said the railroad's total operating expenses increased by $147.1 million over the same period last year. The holding company said it was unable to determine the extent to which the railroad's reorganization would affect the value of its investment in the carrier.

Social Work Council Lists Meeting Topic

KINGSTON The Ulster County Council of Social Agencies will meet Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 11:45 a. m. Luncheon meeting will be held at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue.

Mrs. Justina Kilcoyne, supervisor of Social Services at Middletown State Hospital, will discuss The Middletown Family Care Program in Ulster County. Mrs. Kilcoyne has practiced social work at Middletown State Hospital since 1960. She received her Master of Social Work degree from Smith College. Prior to her association with Middletown Hospital, Mrs. Kilcoyne was employed by the Orange County Department of Social Services.

The luncheon meeting is open to all interested persons. Reservations can be made by calling the YWCA before Friday.

Arraignment Date Set for Upstate Man

DALLAS (UPI)—A central New York man will be arraigned today on a charge of crossing state lines to avoid prosecution for murder, according to federal authorities.

John A. Jacobi, 29, of Cortland, N.Y., was arrested by the FBI at noon Wednesday in a downtown Dallas bus station on a fugitive warrant in the murder of a Bronx man.

Jacobi was held in Dallas County jail pending the arraignment.

A warrant was issued against Jacobi Oct. 19 in the death of Daniel Melillo Jr., 34, whose bullet-riddled body was found in a small lake in southern Onondaga County by hunters eight days before.

The body had been anchored in four feet of water by weights attached to wires.

Melillo was last seen alive Sept. 21 when he told relatives he was leaving New York City by bus headed for Montreal, where he planned to see the Man and His World exhibition.

His body was discovered in Tracy Lake, near Tully, Oct. 11. Medical Examiner Martin F. Hilfinger Jr. later ruled Melillo died of three gunshot wounds fired from a small-caliber weapon.

USSR A-Test?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission says it has picked up seismic signals from central Siberia indicating the Soviet Union has conducted an underground nuclear test equal to 200,000 tons of TNT. It was the seventh apparent test recorded by the AEC this year.

International Add

LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—Bacuc, a 4-year-old colt from Italy, was named Wednesday as the 10th horse in the field for the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International at Laurel Race course Nov. 11. Bacuc won his last four stakes to bring his lifetime record to 13 victories in 22 races.

Blood-Covered Bodies Found, Both Were Shot and Strangled

McCONNELLSBURG, Pa. (UPI)—A highway caretaker discovered the blood-covered bodies of two young New York City area women, both of them shot and one of them strangled, at the foot of an embankment Wednesday in a remote area off Interstate Highway 70, two miles from the Maryland border.

The victims, who were believed headed for Washington, D.C., were tentatively identified as June P. Eberlin, 19, of Forest Hills, N.Y., and Mary Ellen Lenihan, 19, of New York City, a student at Queensboro Community College.

Autopsies were to be performed on both victims today. Their parents were en route to identify the bodies. Police, meanwhile, issued an alert for a man in his early 20s, with long brown hair and wearing a light buckskin coat who was believed to have been traveling with the women.

Caretaker Otis Shives, who found the bodies in a grassy section, said, "It looked like somebody had just thrown them over the bank."

One was found face down and nude. She had a small-caliber bullet wound behind her right ear and severe rope burns on her neck. The other fully-clothed victim was shot in the neck, police said. W.E.B. Hall, Fulton County pathologist, estimated the women had been dead between 48 and 72 hours.

Police said they had an unconfirmed report from an elderly service station attendant who told them he had seen two young women traveling with a man on Tuesday night when they asked him to fix a flat tire. The attendant, identified as Bernard L. Spade of Hancock, Md., told police they tried to rob him.

"At first, I thought somebody had thrown a plastic dummy over the hill," caretaker Shives said. "I saw a leg sticking out through the grass with a stick on it. Then, I just stood there a bit, just looking. I couldn't believe it."

Police said the girls apparently ly left New York City on Oct. 24 for Washington. Mrs. Mary Lenihan described her daughter, a domestic science student, as "a fine girl who believed in peace."

State Expected To Wind Up the Tate Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The state was expected to conclude its case in the Tate-LaBianca murder trial today with the testimony of a former female member of the "Manson family" going before the jury.

Dianne Lake, 17, had given testimony outside the presence of the jury as the defense objected to its admissibility as evidence.

However, Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older ruled Wednesday that Miss Lake could repeat her story in the presence of the jury.

In her testimony, Miss Lake implicated defendant Leslie Van Houten in the deaths of Leno LaBianca and his wife.

At one point during Wednesday's session, Miss Lake indicated she may have been confined to a mental hospital to keep her away from Charles Manson and his band of hippies.

Defense attorneys tried to question her further, but Older sustained prosecution objections that the matter was irrelevant.

At that point Manson remarked that the judge was "dead, dumb and blind." Older told Manson, who recently was banned from the courtroom because of misbehavior, to keep quiet—which he did.

Dear Abby

Let Son Lead Own Life

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Our son, 19, attended a boys' high school and never dated until he went to college. As a college freshman he met a girl and they became engaged. She is a year older than he, is of another faith, and she is an invalid, having had spinal surgery at age 13. She needs help to walk, and her coordination is poor.

Our son invited her to our home for a few days. (She lives 300 miles away.) It was heart-breaking! The poor girl made her bed to the best of her ability, but it looked like the work of a child. She left fingerprints on the walls where she had tried to get around, unassisted.

We've explained to our son that he will have a hard time getting insurance and hospitalization—that she will always need a full-time maid, and she is incapable of caring for a baby, if indeed she could ever bear one.

We've told our son that we will see him through college, while he is still single, but if he marries in college, we'll not help him financially.

We love our son and don't want him to make a mistake he will regret all his life. Meanwhile, the girl's parents are encouraging this marriage. Would you recommend this marriage?

HIS PARENTS: DEAR PARENTS: The "marriage" may come off whether I recommend it or not. But I have a recommendation for you. Though I know you have your son's best interests at heart, it is his decision and his life, and even his "mistake" if that's what it turns out to be.

Don't point out the difficulties he will face should he marry this girl. (He's aware of them.) Your obvious disapproval of this choice could make him all the more determined to marry her just to prove you wrong.

DEAR ABBY: A man just can't win. Why is it that when I send my wife flowers for no special occasion, she looks at me funny and says, "Well, what have you done now?"

NOT GUILTY: DEAR NOT: She hasn't been properly trained. When she feels certain that your generosity was not prompted by a guilty conscience, she'll quit being suspicious. To "train" her—send her flowers more often.

DEAR ABBY: The letter about twin beds interested me because for 10 years my husband and I also slept "spoon style" and it was very comfortable—for him. He is 6'2" and I am 5'2" and I wasn't getting much bed, or much sleep.

Five years ago we bought twin beds and for the first year my husband hated it. Then we hit upon a good compromise. We pushed the twin beds together. That way we each have our own mattress and when one moves the other isn't disturbed. Of course the bedroom doesn't look quite as attractive, but now we can hold hands when we go to sleep, and he can lean over and kiss me good night and we can get a good night's sleep. I know I am much easier to get along with during the day.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You suddenly have a great deal more energy and become interested in new, up-to-date conditions which are in tune with your astrological configurations. So delve into any sources where you can find current ideas, appliances, methods and see how you can use them in your own life.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Visiting new acquaintances opens your eyes to finer ways of improving your own life. Get a new perspective on life. Evening is a good time to be with loyal partners to discuss whatever is most important.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You need backing so be sure to see an important person who can give it willingly and generously now. Show that you are a most capable person. Get in to that civic venture that stamps you as a good citizen.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You now understand how to gain the support of others through your finest talents, so go ahead and do just that. An excellent day for expansion. Planning an important trip is wise, also. Express devotion to loved one.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find a new system for handling your responsibilities more easily and well. Being more affectionate with mate can bring right results. Show a more conciliatory attitude toward others. Show that you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Cutting down with associates and planning the future more intelligently is your best bet now. They have progressive ideas. Discuss them. Many things open up that bring excellent benefits.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Think out what appliances you can employ to make your daily chores more efficient and easy running. See what can be done to improve your health. Try not to get to bed too late tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You need relief from tensions, so engage in recreational and cultural activities that please and relax you. Being with congenials only is important. Show special devotion to loved one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Start making those changes at home that are important right now. Gain the cooperation of kin. Make use of gadgets you have bought and put in a corner that will really make your home more functional.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are able to find those items you need early in the day, and then you can have a delightful time with friends and relatives. Talk less, get better results.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Better get busy closing up loopholes in your financial affairs or they could cause you to lose much. Listen to what an experienced businessman has to suggest. Greater prosperity can be yours instead of possible failure.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be the gregarious Aquarius you like to be today after getting your most important duties attended to. Evening is particularly fine for an important social affair. Dress elegantly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Private affairs can be worked out very efficiently during the day, provided you study early just how you are going to do so. Assist those who are having rough sledding, also. Show generosity wherever possible.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those gregarious young persons who likes to be with people as much as possible. Give an opportunity to have lots of playmates early in life, but see that they are screened properly, or your progeny could get into trouble. Send to the finest schools you can afford to train for work with and for the public. Do not neglect an added course in psychology, sports, too.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Timely Quotes

Vietnamization is not a plan for peace. All it means is that we can gradually reduce our manpower there and turn the burden of war over to the South Vietnamese. But the war goes on. Vietnamization is a plan for perpetual war.

—Clark Clifford, former secretary of defense.

It's time to take my gloves off. No more of this Mr. Nice Guy. Starting tomorrow I will try to switch off my low-key approach and start calling a spade a spade.

—Vice President Spiro Agnew, to newsmen after a speech in New York in which he stated he was not questioning the patriotism of "radical liberals."

This is one of the few campaigns in memory in which men apparently seek not merely to defeat their opponents but literally to eliminate them from our public life.

—New York Mayor John Lindsay.

The Congress, the judiciary and the executive branch properly seek remedies against violent conduct, but the marketplace of ideas cannot be closed and all branches of government must in the last analysis depend on the common sense of citizens. This is the essence of democracy and it is in times of stress that the fundamental requirement of free speech and nonviolent assembly must be assiduously preserved wherever possible.

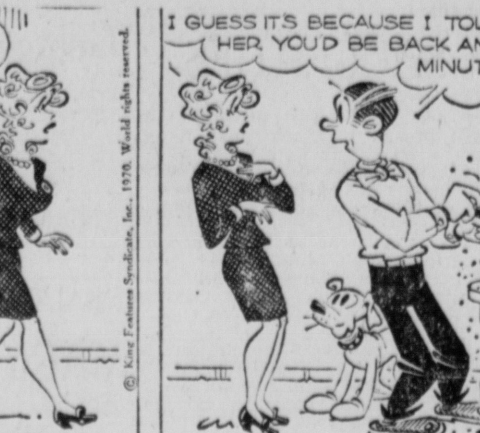

—Federal District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell, barring government publication of a House Internal Security Subcommittee list of radical campus speakers. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

TURNDOWN: (Q.) In my block there's a girl I like a lot. I don't know how much she likes me, but she's pretty nice to me, and, for that matter, everyone.

I haven't gone to her house but a few times, and only when she was outside. We haven't said much to each other.

Then yesterday afternoon I called her on the phone and asked her to go to the park with me and play tennis. She acted very surprised and stammered a little bit and told me she was busy right then and couldn't go.

Afterward I wondered if I should have called her when I could have walked up the street and asked her. I'm not sure whether she has a boy friend or not and I would hate to bother her if she has. And I would hate to make a fool out of myself. It seems I'm always doing that.

What should I do next?—Inexperienced in Tulsa, Okla.

(A.) You did not make a mistake in calling the girl. A boy does not make a fool of himself when he asks a friendly girl to go somewhere with him.

Don't be discouraged. Call her again. Or ask her in person if you prefer.

DREAMER: (Q.) My mother was not married when I was born and isn't now. She is slightly mentally retarded, too, and has never been able to take care of my brother and sister and me.

We were raised by our grandparents, whom I love very much. I have not had any trouble in school or in making friends. But when I was eight something began to happen. I went to camp that summer and began to dream that one of my counselors was my mother and that everything was so wonderful.

Since then I've had many dreams like that, about different women I look up to. I am 18 now and just had an argument with my boy friend. Last night I dreamed that one of these "mothers" held me in her arms and we talked and talked, and everything was all right.

Is it normal to dream like this?—Happy in My Sleep in Chicago.

(A.) It is normal to want and need the love and care of a mother. You have not had your fair share of this and have had to find substitutes.

In our dreams we find escapes that we can't always find when we are awake. This is what you are doing and I think it is good for you.

Pleasant dreams!

NBC Balances Things Out

NEW YORK (AP) — About half the television viewers of the nation were burning midnight oil Tuesday watching election returns. NBC thoughtfully booked some light entertainment early Wednesday evening to balance things off.

"The Men from Shiloh" had all sorts of help from guest star Greer Garson with a 90-minute comedy. Then followed that most relaxing of all television extravaganzas, an ice show.

Except for an occasional appearance on a variety show and those feature film rebroadcasts, Miss Garson has been a stranger to television. Her first dramatic role, in one of Doug McClure's "Shiloh" segments, was a woman lawyer using her feminine charms in a manner that must have brought jeers from any women's lib ladies watching.

The story began in the familiar Western fashion: Trampas McClure's long-playing cowboy role—won a gold mine in a bar room poker game in a small town, then was arrested for the murder of the loser.

Attorney for the defense turned out to be an elegant lady from the East whose methods, while unorthodox, got Trampas acquitted in time for the final commercial and undoubtedly started some studio vice president dreaming about spinning off Miss Garson and her character in a series.

The story was done lightly and at no time did anyone think Trampas was in danger. Miss Garson had some excellent help, with E. G. Marshall playing a susceptible judge and James Whitmore a stony faced but cooperative marshal.

"Highlights from the 1971 Ice Capades" which followed was an eye-filling, ear-filling program that made no demands on the viewer.

It was like all the others, from the solo star swooping and darting to the comedy skating chimp. This time David Janssen was the host and managed to skate from one end of the rink to another without wobbling much. Florence Henderson, dutifully keeping off the ice, added some vocal solos.

The zodiac theme provided an excuse for some stilted dialogue and some very handsome costumes.

U.S. Toll in Vietnam Lowest in Five Years

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today only 24 American servicemen were killed in combat in Vietnam last week, the lowest death toll in five years.

The low death toll was attributed to a battlefield lull, American withdrawals, and the fact South Vietnamese forces were doing more of the fighting.

The figures compared to 43 U.S. soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines killed in action the week before. It was the lowest toll since the week ended Oct. 23, 1965, when 14 Americans were killed in the fighting.

In addition, 431 Americans were wounded during the week ending Oct. 31. Since the beginning of U.S. involvement in Indochina in 1961, 43,928 American servicemen have been killed in action.

Battlefield Action
Meanwhile, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops fought a series of battles with Communist forces Wednesday, killing 64 of them. Four Americans were reported lost in the actions.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian high command said that as its forces were built toward a hoped-for army of 200,000 men, they increasingly were taking the initiative in fighting against the Communists. "We are going out very often" rather than holding defensive positions around towns, the spokesman said. "Now we are taking the initiative and the offensive on the terrain."

The Cambodian command also reported two new clashes, one at Angkor Ban on the Mekong River about 55 miles northeast of Phnom Penh and the other at the town of Kompong Trach, 72 miles south-southwest of the capital. No Cambodian casualties were reported in either clash.

South Vietnam Action

In South Vietnam, American and South Vietnamese troops clashed sharply with Communist units about 15 miles south of Da Nang, the country's second largest city. The American command said a U.S. Marine pacification team spotted guerrillas and called in reinforcements. Twenty guerrillas were killed in the battle that followed and one Marine was killed.

The South Vietnamese fought a battle slightly to the north at about the same time and killed 21 Communists.

American forces also fought Communist guerrillas west of Hue, the old imperial capital. An estimated 200 Communists struck a unit of the 101st Airborne Division but were repelled with the aid of helicopter gunships. The Americans killed seven guerrillas and lost three dead.

U.S. Air Force sources said American warplanes in the past four weeks have dropped enough conventional explosives on the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos to equal the destructive power of three Hiroshima-size atomic bombs. It is the war's longest aerial campaign and now is in its fifth week.

Thuy Calls Nixon a Liar

PARIS (UPI)—Hanoi's chief peace negotiator accused President Nixon today of "lying" to the American people about the progress of the Vietnam war in order to impose "even more reactionary policies" at home and abroad.

In a sharply-worded attack on Nixon's Vietnam policies, North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy said, "The results of the Nov. 3 elections have proved the failure of his enterprise."

Thuy made the statement entering the 91st session of the deadlocked talks and repeated it in his conference speech to U.S. chief negotiator David K. E. Bruce.

Calling on Nixon to accept the Communist propositions to settle the war, Thuy said, "So long as the war in Vietnam and Indochina will not have found a correct solution, it is really difficult for the United States to smooth out all difficulties in various fields — political, social, economic, inflation, the problems of the cities. To emerge from this difficult situation, it is in Mr. Nixon's interest to stop his lying proposals and to end the war by responding seriously" to the Communist peace plan.

He said during the election campaign Nixon sought electoral victory to "direct even more his foreign and domestic policy in a reactionary sense."

"He pushed quite far the art of lying with the aim of leading public opinion into error," Thuy said.

The Viet Cong's chief negotiator, Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, charged U.S. and South Vietnamese forces exploited recent floods in the northern provinces of South Vietnam to "multiply their sweep operations and frantically herd flood victims into concentration camps."

'Technical Details' Remain Before Release of Officer

MOSCOW (UPI) — Three American Army officers and a Turkish colonel held in Armenia since their aircraft crossed the Soviet-Turkish border will be released within a few days, unofficial Soviet sources said today.

They said there appeared to be only a few "technical details" to be cleared up before the four men are allowed to fly back to Turkey from Leninakan, Armenia, where they have been held since their light aircraft, a Beechcraft U8, landed there Oct. 21.

Two of the Americans are generals—Maj. Gen. Edward C. D. Sherrer and Brig. Gen. Claude M. McQuarrie. The other captives are Maj. James P. Russell and Turkish Col. Cevdett Denli.

American consular officials have visited them twice in Leninakan and reported they are comfortably housed at a local villa and are in good health and spirits.

The four men claimed their light plane was blown off course by a strong gust of wind and they did not know they were on Soviet territory when they landed.

The U.S. government has protested their lengthy detention. On Wednesday, State Department spokesman John F. King said in Washington "we completely fail to understand the long Soviet delay in completing the investigation of a matter which clearly involves accidental intrusion into Soviet territory."

He noted the United States already has apologized for the incident and said "the matter should end there."

Return of the four men has been complicated by the hijacking of a Soviet airliner to Turkey. Turkish authorities have refused to extradite the two hijackers, who killed a stewardess.

St. Bonaventure Fire Labeled as Suspicious

OLEAN, N. Y. (UPI)—A suspicious fire quickly leveled two storage barns on the campus of St. Bonaventure University early this morning.

While firemen were still battling the blaze at the wooden, 40-year-old structures, the university president called a special meeting with students in the university center where five hours earlier they had argued university authority and student rights.

"I want to make it clear that I do not consider the unfortunate fire you have just witnessed an intimidation," the Very Rev. Reginald A. Redlon, OFM, said. "I assure you that the university will continue to operate normally in the morning."

Wind gusts fanned the flames 300 feet into the air as more than 500 students gathered to watch the blaze which was discovered about 1:30 a.m. There were no injuries and damage was estimated as in excess of $70,000.

A spokesman for campus police said "There is little doubt" the fire was set. Fire and police officials are investigating to officially determine how the fire was ignited.

The barns contained at least three trucks, one a brand new vehicle equipped with a hydraulic lift, and laboratory equipment.

Redlon said he had been informed by campus police that persons carrying dynamite had been on the campus Wednesday and that some 20 non-students were seen near the barns' west side where the fire began.

"Today, I was notified by the security that they had evidence that there were students, whom they were convinced were non-Bonaventure students, or were at least people who were not part of the Bonaventure community and who had dynamite on this campus," Redlon said.

Several bomb threats were telephoned to the university switchboard Wednesday night while Redlon met with students over a dispute concerning visiting rights. Earlier this week, the Student Senate had called for defiance of rules forbidding members of the opposite sex to visit each others' dorm rooms.

In response, Redlon had said several days ago that if the rules were defied he would close the school.

In the nighttime meeting, Student Senate President Charles Dougherty called on Redlon to retract his threat. Redlon did not do so.

The senate announced at that meeting that it would discontinue its endorsement of defiance of the rules and instead appeal to the university trustees to overrule Redlon.

In the morning meeting, Dougherty addressed the students in support of Redlon and against violence.

"I think our sentiment is with the president," Dougherty said. "Any disagreement we have is attributed to a difference of opinion on how the university should be run. Universities should be run and they should be left standing."

The senate met in a special session and formally condemned the barn burning. They called off all demonstrations that had been planned in support of rules changes.

The barns were located between a wooded area and a parking lot on the edge of campus, about 150 yards from the arts building.

St. Bonaventure opened its first women dorms for occupancy in 1965. It was founded as a college for men.

About 2,300 full-time students are enrolled at the Southwest-ern New York school.
